Brotherhoods Send Out Code Messages to All Locals of Country Announcing That Walk-out Plan Abandoned

U. S. Board to Make Known Findings of Public Hearing Wednesday, at Which Both Sides in Dispute Testified

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—The official recall of the rail strike orders issued by the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen were dispatched today when leaders of the "big five" flashed code messages to their general chairmen. The chairmen will submit the messages to the locals and the official order recalling the strike will thus permeate the country in a few hours. Similar orders were despatched today by the telegraphers' organization, the only other union that had voted to participate in the strike scheduled to begin Sunday.

While these orders are being circulated the United States Labor Board, which played an important part in the final decision of the unions, will announce today its findings.

sion of the union leaders. Early in the day general chairmen of each of the five organizations conferred separately. In the afternoon a joint session was held which was addressed by Ben W. Hooper of the Labor Board. Hooper's appearance before the board is said by union leaders to have been a success.

Hooper is said to have stressed the board's announcement that no further wage cuts for any class of employees would be considered under working conditions for that class. Employees have been settled. He is also said to have emphasized sized the announcement of the re-executives made at Wednesday hearing that no changes in either wages or working conditions would be sought except through the Labor

Board as provided by law. Union men said they construed Hooper's remarks as indicating that nearly cuts could be made effective, even if the roads should apply for the aid at once and the board should eventually approve them.

The final decision seemed pleasing to union men, rail executives and the Labor Board alike. Union leaders pointed out that they had determined that they could not strike without

TRAFFIC MEN PICK NEW YORK MAN FOR PRESIDENCY

Uniform Laws Unanimously Adopted Before Convention Formally Closes.

Captain John W. O'Connor, captain of traffic of New York City, was elected president of the International Traffic Officers' Association today at the final session which ended the fourth annual convention of the organization. Ratification of the proposed uniform traffic laws was unanimously adopted after methods had been discussed as to the quickest way to bring the matter to the attention of the various state legislatures. The 1927 convention city will be selected by the executive committee.

Other officers elected were: L. R. Geddes of Toronto, first vice-president; Frank Smith of Cleveland, second vice-president; Captain Henry Gleason of San Francisco.

History of Rail Strike; Wage Cut Order Is Cause

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(By the Associated Press.) Decision of the Railroad Labor Board on July 1 authorizing railroads to reduce wages of their employees an average of 12 1/2 per cent was the first event in the series which led up to the strike for a general strike by six unions.

When this decision was rendered, a majority of the rail unions began taking votes on its acceptance. In every case the union vote was overwhelmingly for a strike rather than accept a wage cut, although on some lines, notably the Pennsylvania, there were divisions where groups of workers voted not to strike.

Taking of the ballot, however, developed some signs of friction among some unions. W. C. Lee, president of third vice-president, Frank L. Edwards of San Mateo, secretary, Bush Anderson of Phoenix, treasurer, and J. V. Jenkins, chief of police of Portland, sergeant-at-arms. Strike for the "Safety Department" at the municipal auditorium tonight will be furnished by the quartet of the United States Naval Hospital Training School at Goat Island. Several violators will accompany the navy singers.

COURT ACTION IF RAIL MEN STRUCK PLANNED BY U. S.

Government Was Ready to Ask Indictments if Labor Abandoned Trains.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Complete plans to avert the most serious handicaps of the railroad strike which was scheduled to begin October 30, but called off last night, had been made by the government while the strike still appeared a certainty. District Attorney Cline made known today. Application for injunctions restraining the "brotherhood" chiefs from carrying out the strike with orders necessary to conduct these proceedings were in the hands of district attorneys throughout the country ready to be presented in federal courts.

The applications were drafted by Attorney General Daugherty at a conference with five district attorneys earlier in the week, and followed closely those drawn by Attorney General Richard Olney in 1894 for the injunction issued, then restraining Eugene V. Debs and other officers of the American Railway Union from interfering with trains, through of the United States mail, Cline said.

The government program included two actions to prevent a tie-up in transportation and a third looking to the punishment of strike leaders through indictments for conspiracy against the public. These were to be presented to the court 24 hours before the time the strike was scheduled to begin.

ONE STRIKE BEGUN. On last Saturday, however, 650 trainmen on the International Great Northern began a strike. This strike had been authorized previously to the "big four" strike call. What the settlement there will be is not yet known.

The government, while acting formally only through the labor board, completed plans to combat a strike, these plans including proposed legal action on the grounds that a strike would violate conspiracy laws. The board informed the labor groups a few hours before the latter's decision that it had word from Washington that "every governmental agency would be used in combating a strike."

Coast Rail Officials Elated Over Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Railroad executives throughout the bay region were expressing their satisfaction today that the chief of the "big five" brotherhoods had called off the general strike which threatened to tie up the lines of transportation throughout the United States.

William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific, E. W. Mason, general manager of the Western Pacific, and W. S. Palmer, president of the Northwestern Pacific, all agreed today that the strike was ill-advised and that there was never a doubt as to the ultimate outcome. Their satisfaction was based on the prevention of suffering and distress to their employees, they said.

Sproule issued the following statement: "Along with every officer of the company I believe that there is to be no strike," he declared. "Just as the German grand fleet was swept from the seas, the strike as a method of nation-wide warfare must go. It will disappear by common consent of the men, the employers and the government."

GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED. "The people in general will not permit their business to be stopped over anybody's quarrels, for the right to live is more sacred than the right to strike."

"The main point now is that regardless of the views about it of either the men or the management, public opinion has sustained the United States government as the referee in disputes over wages and working conditions and that referee is now the United States Railroad Labor Board as created by the transportation act of 1920. With the government as referee, strikes will not be permitted, and both sides will be required to adjust their disputes between themselves, or failing in that, the government will settle the disputes. It is a long step forward."

I am rejoiced not only that the threatened strike has been called off, but also that means have been found for getting rid of that kind of industrial warfare which puts in position of trial and trouble great numbers of experienced and faithful men who do not want to strike."

STRIKES ARE FAILURE. "No railroad strike has ever brought to the men the advantages they hoped to get out of it. Let us hope that some way will be found for both sides to get together hereafter on the property to work out its problems and reach fair conclusions as should be done. Particularly as a labor agreement loaded down with technicalities of construction and penalties upon the company which are to be simplified in the interest of the road and of the men and of the public. The company wishes those relations with its men renewed and confirmed which have been a tradition of the company for 50 years."

To that tradition our tried and experienced men can bear testimony. Let us go forward with good will among ourselves to give good service to the public."

Ban on Rail Strikes Planned by Congress

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—With a general railroad strike averted after it threatened the country for two weeks, a general movement started by Congress today to ban such a situation impossible in the future.

The chief means to this end will be to put "teeth" in the Esch-Cummins railroad law by making decisions of the railway labor board mandatory on both the carriers and employees.

Meanwhile, more freight reductions are expected to be announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as the result of the cancellation of the strike call. The administration had decided it would not be coerced into certain steps previously suggested by the strike situation. Cuts in the rates on lumber and on fruits and vegetables from the Pacific Coast, have been virtually agreed upon.

WILL H. HAYS, U. S. POSTAL CHIEF, IS INJURED IN WRECK

Will H. Hays One of Twenty Injured in Collision on Pennsylvania Road.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Scores of persons, including Postmaster General Will H. Hays, were injured early today when a passenger train crashed into the rear end of a local train near Manhattan.

Will Hays

The collision occurred while a dense fog hung over the meadows. It was feared some of the passengers on the express suffered fractured skulls. Hays was taken to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel here, where he was treated by an osteopath, who declared there were no bones broken, but that the postmaster general had sustained a very severe shock. Dr. Lee H. Frankel, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, also suffered from shock. Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals for treatment following the wreck.

Refusal to Dance Is Held Students' Legal Right

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—Folk and other forms of dancing even though included in the curriculum as part of the regular course in physical education or glee, as exercises, cannot legally be forced upon children attending the public schools of California, against the "conscientious scruples" of their parents; neither does refusal to take part in such exercises afford sufficient ground for the expulsion of pupils by boards of school trustees.

The third district court of appeals here so held today in reversing the judge of the superior court of Sacramento county against the board of trustees of the Featherbridge school district, which is composed of F. F. Silva, R. L. Ennis and F. C. Brosius.

Two of Hardwick's children were expelled by the trustees after they had been forbidden by their parents to take part in the folk dances of the school. It was ascertained that the exercises although prescribed by the school as part of the proposed physical education plan, were offensive to the parents because of their "conscientious scruples," and contrary to their religious beliefs and principles.

'SAFETY FIRST' MEASURES SHOWN

The United States Navy will hold sway tonight at the "Safety Exposition" at the municipal auditorium. With music, entertainment and practical demonstrations of the "safety first" measures taken by high naval officials for the safety of the enlisted personnel, officers and men from Goat Island and Mare Island will present a typical navy program.

A special quarter from the San Francisco recruiting station and a band from Goat Island will furnish the music.

Methods used by the United States Coast Guard in rescuing shipwrecked mariners will be demonstrated tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at Lakeside park by the San Francisco Golden Gate station crew, with Captain Norman Nelson in command. He will be assisted by Assistant Superintendent Theodore Roberge. The crew of the Golden Gate station will demonstrate how they rescue persons from wrecked ships, methods of resuscitation, and how the men of the stations are trained for their hazardous work. Tomorrow night at the municipal auditorium the Oakland Motorcycle club will give daring exhibitions on their cycles in the auditorium arena.

Timber Supply in Danger, Says Speaker

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Logging mills and even whole logging towns are being abandoned through the exhaustion of timber which could be replaced through reforestation. David T. Mason, forest engineer of Portland, Ore., told the twelfth annual convention of the Pacific Logging Congress today. A policy of permanent reforestation should be established, he urged, while the supply is plentiful.

Weinmann placed Ephraim's bail at $250 cash.

Smoked Trout for Shipping, Arrested

SONORA, Oct. 28.—Irving R. and A. L. Foster, Oakland men, were fined $100 each by Judge Wilkinski, after pleading guilty to a charge of violating the state fish law. They were arrested by Forest Ranger Joseph Elliott. The men were camped on Hell's Half Acre on the Middle Fork of the Tuolumne during the summer and, according to their own admission, smoked quantities of trout and shipped the cured fish to the bay city by parcels post. At the time of their arrest they had more fish in their possession than the law permits.

Craig and Patenaude were removed to a hospital, where it was reported their condition was not serious.

DAKOTA GOVERNOR FACING RECALL AT STATE ELECTION

Independent Voters Seek to Oust Three Officials Named by League.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 23.—The first recall election against state officials ever attempted in the United States was held today in North Dakota with the Independent Voters' Association faction seeking to have its candidates ousted three officials who were elected last fall with endorsement of the Non-Partisan League. Back of the opposing factions expressed confidence of success. Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, Attorney General William Lemaire and J. N. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor, are the officials the independents are attempting to oust.

A proposed law providing means to liquidate the bank of North Dakota, a state institution, and provide for a rural credits act passed after the South Dakota law, is being voted on.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

In a query which came in today a TRIBUNE reader wants to know how to start a Longanville vine—whether it must have a root, or not, and if it can be started from a cutting.

It is difficult to start this vine from a slip. Get a good root from a vine that is already growing, as these plants are very difficult to make grow under the most favorable conditions.

How do you tan skins with this hair on? To tan skins with hair on them, roughly wash the skin and remove all fleshy matter from the inner surface, then clean the hair with water and soft soap and rinse well. Take a pound each of common soap and ground alum and 1/2 ounce of borax, dissolve in hot water, and add sufficient rye meal to make a thick paste, which spread on the flesh side of the skin. Fold skin lengthwise, flesh side in, and put in cool, dry place for ten days or two weeks, then shake out, scrape paste from surface, wash and dry. Pull and stretch the skin with hands, or over a beam, and work on the flesh side with a blunt knife.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and labor issues and queries as to the time of day.

The bureau is open every day except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. If answers are desired by mail, state must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the Bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask THE TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside Bldg.

More Testimony in Barzee Case Heard

Further hearing was held today at the civil service board rooms concerning the case of Lloyd Barzee, business manager of the school department, accused of hiring, transferring and promoting employees without the sanction of the civil service board.

The original charges against Barzee specified all the individual cases of employees, more than 60 in number. Barzee's formal answer took up each case and analyzed it at length, his whole answer being about 20 closely typewritten pages.

A special committee of three was chosen by the board of education to review each charge and the answers thereto. The committee has the job of reporting as to whether the answers fit the charges. To ascertain this, the records of the civil service board are being examined.

It is not known whether or not the committee can conclude its task in time to report to the board of education Monday.

FUTURE OF BAY CITIES HINGES ON COUNTRY GROWTH

Industrial Leaders Discuss the Plans for Advancement Before Development Assn.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The future development of San Francisco and the bay cities rests upon the development of the interior of the State, according to A. B. F. Bohrmann, who was among the speakers who addressed the California Development Association at a luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

"Within the next ten years there will be a tremendous increase in the population of the State," he said, and the crowds that were coming to California before the war again are coming here. Our work is to see that they are placed in jobs which will be profitable to them and add to the wealth of the State.

Washington Greed, president of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, told the meeting that co-operation is the highest ideal that exists in human affairs because it is founded upon the principle of the common good. He urged its practice in building cities.

Among others who spoke were: James H. McDonough, president of the association; R. B. Hale, vice-president; Norman H. Sloane, manager; A. B. F. Bohrmann; Joseph E. Caine, manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Al C. Joy of the California Raisin Growers' Association; and Robert Newton Lynch, manager of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Bohrmann was chairman of the day.

SKULL BROKEN, STAYS AT WORK EIGHT HOURS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—William E. Youren, 28 years old, mechanic, worked at his regular occupation for eight hours with a fractured skull and collapsed soon after reaching his home, 2207 Fulton street. Youren is employed at night. En route to work he fell from a car. Arriving home at 3 o'clock this morning, he complained of pains and shortly afterwards went into convulsions. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Otto Fleischer declared his belief that the man's skull had been fractured.

WOMAN DROWNED

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 23.—Clara Riechart of Naselle, Wash., was drowned when she fell from a 30-foot cliff into the Naselle river, according to word received here. She had been hunting coons and is believed to have lost her way and plunged over the cliff in the dark.

MYSTERY YACHT FOUND WRECKED

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 23.—The sixty-foot yacht Kona was found wrecked on the jetties at the mouth of St. John's river, eighteen miles from here, late last night, after the body of an unidentified negro wearing a life preserver bearing the name "Kona" or "Roslyn" had floated ashore today near Mayport. No trace has been found of the other members of the crew.

Shipping records give the home port of the Kona, the only vessel listed under that name, as New York, and show that she carried a crew of four men. With other wreckage which floated ashore from the Kona officials said they found a large quantity of bottles of whisky.

The fleet Sea is about 1200 miles long and averages about seventy-five miles in width.

T. R. GREATEST MAN OF HIS TIME, WRITES HARDING

ON BOARD—PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN IN GEORGIA, Oct. 23.—A tribute to Theodore Roosevelt as "the greatest American of his time," was written by President Harding yesterday on the fly-leaf of a volume autographed by the colonel nine years ago.

The book, a copy of Roosevelt's "Winning of the West," belongs to G. H. Smith, the engineer who brought the presidential special into Atlanta yesterday. He sent it to the president's private car with a book mark at the fly-leaf, on which was scrawled:

"To G. H. Smith, with all good wishes.
Theodore Roosevelt.
September 22, 1915."
It came back with this added: "I am glad to see you and the good wishes of the greatest American of his time."
Warren G. Harding.
October 27, 1923, the anniversary of Roosevelt's birth.

NORWAY ELECTION RESULT IN DOUBT

CHRISTIANA, Norway, Oct. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The general elections on Monday gave no party a clear majority and it is difficult to determine which party or bloc will form the new cabinet for the new Storting which meets in Norway.

Out of the 150 seats, the conservatives, running on an anti-prohibition platform and against the government policy of maintaining war time restrictions, secured fifty-six seats. The communists, following the Alge program, obtained 29 seats. The Radical left, the biggest party in the old Storting, had their 33 seats reduced to 19. A woman, Miss Karan Platon, of Christiania, was elected for the first time.

This is one of the New McCall "Printed" Patterns specially designed to make the teaching of sewing classes easier. It is "printed"—like all the New McCall Patterns—and has even more simplified instructions so that the sewing teacher can conduct her classes with more speed and more efficiency.

Why wouldn't this pattern help women to learn sewing?

There are several easy-to-make and attractive styles that you will find pleasant to start on, and they will be a step to the charming costumes that you can make with the regular McCall "Printed" Patterns.

Teachers and women who want to sew—are especially invited to Upright's to look over this Pattern.

Relyea Appointment
Planes Shipping Men
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—One of the main topics of discussion in local shipping circles today is the appointment of Frank R. Relyea, of New York, to be district director of the federal shipping board at San Francisco, replacing Harold H. Eby, who resigned October 4. News of Relyea's appointment was received here last night from Washington. It generally had been expected a local man would be given the post but Relyea's appointment is meeting with favor as he is credited with efficiency and administrative ability and is well known as a shipping man. He is manager of the Oriental Navigation company of New York, and served as a lieutenant in the United States navy during the war. He is scheduled to leave for San Francisco immediately.

New Job Proposed
For C. A. A. McGee
The name of Attorney Charles A. McGee, 240 Perry street, is under consideration by the attorney general for an appointment as an assessor to the attorney general in charge of matters to serve in the Pacific Coast courts, according to word received here today. It is not known whether McGee will accept as he has already turned down two federal appointments, both of which were positions which would occupy most of his time. The present position will enable McGee to retain his private practice.

Program to Dedicate Prescott Auditorium
A three-part program will tonight formally dedicate the Prescott school auditorium, which is destined to become the community center for West Oakland. Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter is announced for the principal address of the evening. Other speakers will be Harry Boyle, Mrs. E. L. Ormsby, David Martin, Charles Tilghman, Frank Grison, James Addicot, A. W. Brodt, Miss Mary Roscovitch, ninth grade student, will give the Prescott school history. The school orchestra will give the overture. Alumni will render the musical numbers. Among them will be: Ethel Abrahams, Hilmar Munster, Mrs. E. Johns, M. Olivares, Maybelle Nelson, M. H. Madden, Salvatore Lucia, Alvin Brophy, Vincent Kalliterna. A one-act play will be produced by Hilmar Munster and Frank O'Brien. A Community Night with moving pictures, music and dancing is announced for Friday night, November 4. Prescott Alumni association will meet Monday night to adopt a constitution.

France introduced lacquer producing trees from the Orient during the war. McGee is at present en route home from New York, and is expected to arrive here either Monday or Tuesday.

TRPLANES HELP PREVENT FIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The plane is becoming an important factor in the prevention of forest fires in the Pacific coast, according to makers at the second session yesterday of the Pacific Logging Congress. Paul G. Redington, district forest ranger, was the chief speaker of the planes for fire prevention work. The small number of forest fires this year, he said, was due to the fact that the forest guards, each equipped in touch with headquarters means of the wireless telephone, were reported ten minutes or they started. A resolution was passed yesterday by the congress urging the air patrol to continue its work and urge Congress to appropriate funds to maintain it. The meeting was attended by more than 200 delegates from all over the Pacific coast. The congress closes tonight, when the delegates leave for an inspection of wood forests.

HARDING LAUDS WORK OF AIDING FORMER ENEMIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A letter from President Harding endorsing relief work in former enemy countries was read last night at a dinner of the central committee for relief of distress in Germany and Austria. The letter, addressed to Charles F. Nagel, head of the committee, read: "Let me heartily commend the efforts of those of our citizens, who loyally gave of their best to win the war, and who now, that the war is long over, peace is established and the restoration of good will is sought, give of their time their services and their money to bring relief to women and children who are suffering in Austria and Germany. I am glad that relief is to be administered by the American Quakers who have already labored in such an enterprise with signal sympathy and success, and it is good to know that in Austria and Germany charitable persons are joining generously and helpfully in this relief."

A statement authorized by the association with regard to the prescription of alcoholic liquors was also made public, reading in part as follows: "We the representatives of the medical profession of the city and county of Los Angeles go on record as absolutely opposed to the prescribing of alcoholic liquors for other than strictly therapeutic purposes and we are opposed to any doctors prescribing said liquors except after a thorough personal physical examination of the patient."

Atlantic Rum Runners Have Exciting Career

Here is the story of a modern smuggler, one of the fleet of rum-runners operating off the Atlantic Coast and providing one of the anti-liquor which some of the liquor is brought into American ports. Captain X, whose real name is withheld, made his statement to a representative of the United Press in Norfolk, Virginia, where he lives in the guise of a law-abiding citizen when he is not sea slipping past revenue cutters with goods from the Bahamas.

By MAX B. COOK
(Written for the United Press)
(Copyright, 1921, by the United Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 28.—Dodge through flotillas of destroyers, lying in wait for the breakers, watching for the blink of a light from the shore signalling "all's well," and making a fortune on a single voyage—these are some of the experiences of an Atlantic Coast booze smuggler, as told to the United Press today.

This smuggler is one of many who bring cargo after cargo of liquor into this country from the West Indies, plying to astounding profits and getting at the "hooch" blockade government tries to maintain intact. His real name cannot be revealed. He will be called Captain X. He is a college graduate and a skipper of a speedy sea-going motor boat capable of carrying 30 tons. While in Norfolk he lives as a law-abiding citizen and resides in a luxurious apartment. While he is resting between trips he docks his rum-runner right in Norfolk harbor.

"HERE'S HOW WE WORK," "Here is how we work," he said. "Our shore agents quietly solicited orders from men able to buy stocks for their cellars and willing to pay a good price for high-class goods. In two weeks we had enough orders to load my boat.

"We made the Bahamas in six days and never saw a government craft. Two hours after we landed a man told me he knew I was a rum-runner and said he was a dealer and in a position to fill my order. That order included Scotch whisky, gin, all kinds of brandy and rum, and about every kind of liquor you could name, but the dealer had them all in his stores.

"Loading the cargo was ticklish work. We knew the government had agents down there looking for bootleggers, so they could get ready to intercept us. We worked at night. The booze was carried down to the waterfront and stowed on barges under oars and hay. Then they slipped along under my boat and slipped aboard the cases.

"Then we started the real dangerous part of the business. We kept a close watch on the return voyage, expecting any minute to have some revenue boat down on us. A fairly big steamer hove in sight one day and passed quite close. We kept right on our way, suspecting nothing, when suddenly from behind the steamer popped a submarine chaser, circled the big ship's stern and came for us hell bent. We altered our course a couple of times, but the chaser kept right on heading for us. Finally I turned and went straight to meet her. We kept our heads down as we passed and laid out a cable over our stern.

"It was dark and rather thick when we made the coast. We were on the point of giving up when blink came the signal of our agent. We picked our way into a cove and there was the shore agents with three motor trucks waiting for us. We have made a number of trips since then and cleaned up each time.

Millinery Day Scheduled by Junior Red Cross

By EDNA B. KINARD.
Those discarded hats tucked away on the top shelf—now really what are you going to do with them? If you believe that nutrition classes and scholarship funds and the like are worth patronizing, those hats might easily be translated into the dimes and dollars which finance them.

Thursday will be Millinery day at the Junior Red Cross shop, 557 Twelfth street. Oakland Federation of Mothers' clubs, sponsoring nutrition classes and scholarship, is a third partner in the project. They have arranged the "hat shower." All day long they will receive the contributions of men's, women's and children's headgear which later they will rehabilitate and sell to swell the treasury which takes care of their child welfare interests.

A second meeting of the board of managers to outline the program for carrying on their part of the shop will be held by the board of managers of Oakland Federation on Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. Members of the board are: Mrs. Peter J. Kramer, Mrs. E. V. Vollmer, Mrs. P. L. Pease, Mrs. F. L. Burkhalter, Mrs. H. J. Trousdale and Mrs. E. Franks.

When home club members assemble on Thursday night they will be entertained by Mrs. Carlo Morbio, formerly Patricia O'Connor, in repertoire, including a number of overseas songs. Judge Everett J. Brown and Mrs. Brown will receive as host and hostess. Dancing will conclude the early November function.

Disarmament Conference will interest Ebblen women on Tuesday, following the November business meeting. Mark L. Regua will be the speaker.

A "Social Service Sewing Shower" is the unique announcement for the Tuesday luncheon of Rockridge Woman's club, to which only members are invited. A business meeting will be held during the latter hour.

A fund of $315 was netted from a recent benefit of Erick Parent-Teacher association, demonstrating the business ability of the mothers. Tomorrow night, the entire community will assemble in the Erick school assembly hall to celebrate the Halloween with a dance.

A tea in honor of the school faculty is announced by Durant Mothers' club for Monday. Mrs. Peter J. Kramer, president of Oakland Federation, will be the speaker. The Baby hospital and Arroyo sanitarium have been enriched by garments for the little ones under their care, made by the mothers from materials which they purchased through the club treasury.

Children and adults are making the new auditorium in Manzanita school a real community center. Grade circuits have been organized among the students and are responsible for an hour's impromptu program on Friday afternoons. Song, dance and drama are featured. The club of the teachers, by the circuits are reported before the general assemblies. Local talent is patronized, although an occasional speaker is invited to give an illustrated talk.

Demonstration of some phase of school work is presented each month before the Parent-Teacher Association. The last Friday night of each month is reserved for a neighborhood dance under the auspices of the mothers. Mrs. L. P. Bolander, president, Miss Margaret I. Poore, principal, are co-operating in their efforts for the community center movement.

Headquarters Open For College's Fund

Headquarters have been opened in San Francisco for the western colleges and universities which have undertaken to raise a fund of $500,000 for European student relief. Robert Hall, Y. M. C. A. secretary for Indian students, Miss Hazel Bent, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Anderson Toole, of the Y. W. C. A. field committee, are in charge.

Every school in the country will contribute to the $500,000 Student Friendship Fund which is being raised this month. The colleges are organized in eastern, central, western, and southern divisions with headquarters in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, and Atlanta, Ga. David P. Barrows, president University of California; Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president Mills College; Ray L. Wilbur, president Leland Stanford Jr. University, are on the advisory committee for the Student Friendship Fund, as also are Herbert Hoover, Woodrow Wilson, Jan Adams, James Rowland Angell, and John H. Finley.

TRIBUNE TITLE CONTEST WILL START MONDAY

Two More Days and Then Big Chance To Earn Ten Dollars.

Only two more days before The TRIBUNE's big picture naming contest will be under way.

Only two more days before thousands and thousands of TRIBUNE readers in the bay region will set their brains to work in an effort to win the $10 cash prize which will be awarded every week to the winner.

There is only a little left to say about the contest. Every one knows what it is about. When it will start and all that remains is to publish the first cartoon in The TRIBUNE Monday afternoon.

This humorous picture will be printed without any name suggestion, and the person guessing the most appropriate title will be awarded the prize and the winning caption and writer's name and address will be published, along with the picture, on the Sunday morning following the Monday cartoon first appeared.

This contest will continue indefinitely and a new picture will appear in The TRIBUNE every Monday, so there will be chances aplenty.

Stick to the following rules and you will have a good chance of winning some of these $10 cash prizes:

The titles must be written on a postcard and addressed to the Title Editor, OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

They must not exceed 12 words in length.

They must reach the Title Editor by Thursday night, following the Monday picture is first printed.

One person may send in as many titles as he or she wishes, but only two on one postcard.

Secretary Hoover Is "Goover" To Russians

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28.—Herbert Hoover, the American secretary of commerce, is "Goover" to all Russian newspapers and newspaper readers.

The English initial "H" has no exact equivalent in the Russian language. So they have made the American secretary of commerce "Goover" and 1,000,000 little Russians who eat the American meals will thank Mr. "Goover" for their daily bread.

"You Saved My Boy's Life"

declared Mr. Joe Ferreira the other day as he entered the office of the SPECIALIST OF FONG WAN CHINESE HERB COMPANY. He gave the following testimony:

"To whom it may concern: 'My boy, Manuel Ferreira, was in the first stages of CONSUMPTION. He vomited everything he ate. The doctor excluded him from school. None of the doctors could help him and both they and the nurses advised that I send him to the County Hospital. Instead I took him to the SPECIALIST at the FONG WAN CHINESE HERB CO., who has completely cured him. My heart is full of gratitude and I want to testify as to the great value of the herbs. EX-EMPEROR OF HUNGARY PLACED ON BRITISH SHIP

Future Abode to Be Decided by Allied Council of Ambassadors.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
BERLIN, Oct. 28.—Ex-Emperor Charles has been transferred from his convent prison to a British gunboat in the Danube, according to a report from Vienna today.

The interallied council of ambassadors will meet in Paris tomorrow to make a final decision as to Charles' future abode.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—Former Emperor Charles is believed to have lost the chance to occupy the Hungarian throne because of his unwillingness to order the bombardment of positions held by university students who barred his path at Budapest for two hours last Sunday morning. Hungary's fate hung in the balance during that time, it is asserted here.

The students had entrenched themselves along a ridge of hills and received forces supporting Charles with a hot machine gun fire. Military leaders of Charles' expedition reported that the students' position must be bombarded.

"I am sorry for the poor boys," he

Money Back Smith Will Sell Shoes

Announcement was made today by the firm of Money Back Smith that the store will meet a long expressed demand on the part of its patrons tomorrow by opening a new and completely stocked men's and boys' shoe department.

The executives of the firm state that they have been considering this move for some time, the one thing that stood in the way of their establishing the new department being the lack of adequate space to carry a complete assortment of shoes for men and boys at popular prices in addition to their apparel stock.

Now it is announced that, through extensive alterations in their downstairs stockrooms space, the new department has been created. Light, roominess and attractiveness are said to be features of the department. Buyers for the firm have spent several months in the Eastern store markets procuring a line of shoes of style and quality; it is said.

is quoted as saying, "Try to persuade them that resistance is hopeless." Farley's began, but in the meantime government troops were hurried forward from Budapest and occupied the ridge held by the students. As a result it was found when Charles gave the order to attack that the battle was already lost.

UNEMPLOYED IN CALIFORNIA NOW 91,000 IS REPORT

Eight Thousand to Be Dropped From Payrolls On November 1.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Callifornia's total of unemployed will be at least 91,000 by November 1, according to a survey of the non-employment situation by C. B. Sexton, superintendent of the Employment Bureau in co-operation with the United States Department of Labor Employment Service, made under the direction of John P. McLaughlin, commissioner of labor.

In the report made following the survey it is stated that there are now 55,000 to 60,000 unemployed in California in the most prosperous times. The total unemployed in California at the time the survey was completed was at least 83,000. This is made up of the 67,800 known and ascertained to have been laid off in manufacturing establishments; 15,500 estimated laid off in certain gainful occupations; 30,000 unemployed in normal times, less the 18,000 increase in building trades and 10,000 unemployed estimated to have left the state by November 1. It is known from reports received, 8,000 will be dropped from manufacturing establishments, bringing the total up to at least 91,000.

The results of the survey have been forwarded to the Board of Control for the Information and Use of the State Administration.

In making the survey a questionnaire was sent out to 1,000 large manufacturing, trading or merchandising establishments and mining companies. Employers were asked the number of males and females (separately) working on the last day of September, 1920, August, 1921, and September, 1921; also the approximate increase or decrease of employees within the next 30 days, or up to November 1.

Replies to the number of 626 were received, 61 of which were incomplete for purposes of comparison. A tabulation of replies with comparisons and working out of percentages shows that 67,800 persons have dropped from employment in manufacturing industries in California between September, 1920, and September, 1921.

You remember the story of the Pitcher—

It made a good many trips to the well and it came back in good order.

"I can take care of myself," it said—"they don't need to talk about risks to me."

But it went once too often.

After that it was only part of a pitcher, and they didn't need to talk to it about risks—it knew.

A lot of people won't believe coffee can harm them until it does harm them.

"Nonsense!" they say, "it never disturbs me."

When it does disturb them, then they know.

Often the disturbance which they then recognize is the result of irritations to nerves and digestion which have been going on for a long time.

If you have to lie awake at night and count the clock ticks, after an evening cup of coffee, then you know that it's better to be safe than sorry.

The risk of coffee's harm is gone when the meal-time drink is Postum.

Here's a delightful and satisfying table beverage, with charm for the taste and without harm for nerves or digestion. You know you're on the right road with Postum; there's never the possibility that you'll go once too often.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

BUSINESS CHIEFS AMERICA'S HOPE, PROFESSOR SAYS

Clear Thinking, Not Radicalism, Needed, Rotary Club Is Told.

America must look to her business men for a settlement of the conditions resultant from the world war, according to Edward McChesney, professor of Political Science at the University of California. Today, as in the period following the Revolutionary war, the firm, solid, clear-thinking business men—not the radicals—must come to the front and tide America over the pending crisis, declared Professor Seit, who yesterday addressed members of the Rotary Club and their guests at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. Seit's subject was "Reconstruction, 1787 and 1921," and he compared and analyzed the stage that followed the Revolutionary war and the period of readjustment under which the United States is today laboring.

APPEAL TO PEOPLE.
"Here in California," said the speaker, "at this time we are feeling disturbed, and as the days go by we will feel more disturbed. The country's burden which has been brought about by the world war has so far not been felt much in California, but it will fall heavier here in November and December and the business men will take care of that. We must appeal to the people to settle the problem of today in the same manner that we appeal to them in the days following the Revolution."

This is not a time for radicals. Radicals have their places, but they are not needed and cannot be used to settle the problems of a nation. The problems confronting the country today are childish, in comparison with those which confronted the country in 1787. Seit described in detail the conditions of that early period and told of the tremendous fight and the numerous obstacles to be surmounted before the government of the United States could be placed on a sound basis.

"DRIVE AWAY MADMAN."
He brought out the fact that the country had to put aside the radicals such as Patrick Henry, Samuel Adams and Tom Paine and vested the powers of solution in the hands of solid clear thinking able business men.

"We are producing few philosophers today, but we are producing big business men," continued Professor Seit. "Solid business men with their feet upon the ground but with imagination. We have today a mad man banging at the door and shouting through the key hole but the business men of America will drive him away and place the country on a secure and firm foundation."

MERCED RIVER CUT YOSEMITE VALLEY, CLAIM

YOSEMITE, Oct. 28.—Out of the living granite of the Sierra Nevada mountains, the Merced river, hundreds of thousands of years ago, first cut the Yosemite valley, California's great outdoor playground, Dr. T. E. Matthes of the United States geological survey, declared here after returning from a recent three months' exploration trip through the wildest portions of the high Sierras.

After the river made the first cut, a great glacier came along and gave the valley its finishing touches. The Merced, Dr. Matthes claims, made a great V-shaped gouge, and the glacier added a few curves and converted Yosemite into the U-shape it has at present.

Dr. Matthes' beliefs form another contribution to the many theories regarding the origin of Yosemite. He has held this theory for some time and declared findings on his trip confirmed it.

Accepted theories as to the formation of the Sierra Nevada mountains were strengthened by Dr. Matthes' observations on his trip. The theory is, he said, that a series of terrific upthrusts tilted the immense block of granite covering the earth to form the mountain range Mount Lyell, the highest peak in the Yosemite National park, was lifted to its present height of more than 13,000 feet from a comparatively low elevation of 5,000 feet, it is thought.

Dr. Matthes on his trip, went into the southern Sierra Nevada and covered practically the entire eastern watershed of the San Joaquin river.

He is 31 years old.

ONE-HALF U. S. IS LIVING IN RENTED HOMES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—More than half of the 24,351,076 families in the United States in 1920 were living in rented homes, according to census bureau enumeration results just made public. The number of families renting their homes was 12,943,598 compared to 10,866,360 who owned their homes. Of the owned homes 6,522,119 were free from encumbrance and 4,059,593 were encumbered while for the remaining 285,248 the status of encumbrance was not reported.

CLUB LEARNS OF CITY'S ACTIVITY ON WATERFRONT

Commissioner Carter Talks to Business Men at Weekly Lunch.

What the city is doing in the way of harbor improvements, as well as developments proposed for the future, were discussed at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Mutual Business club at the Hotel Oakland by Commissioner of Public Works Albert E. Carter.

The speaker stated that the government wishes to re-establish the pier head line, bringing it in nearer to shore to prevent the possibility of another such obstruction as the old "long wharf." He explained that there is an area beyond the pier head line which is a part of Oakland, but is not in the city's jurisdiction as far as navigation and commerce are concerned, the pier head line being an arbitrary line established by the war department and dividing the municipal from the federal authority.

By the establishment of a new pierhead line nearer shore, the city will be able to get a greater area of the harbor developed and maintained by the federal government, it was explained.

DIVIDED IN 3 PARTS.
Carter stated that the waterfront is divided into three parts, the Western waterfront, the Oakland inner harbor, and the portion between the Western Pacific mole and the South-eastern Pacific mole, known as the "White Meat" area.

He also touched upon the work of dredging the channel, a work which is necessary every few years. The work being done by the city in parking a large portion of the quay wall from the warehouse was also mentioned by the speaker. He stated that one regrettable feature about the construction of the quay wall was the fact that there was a curve in the wall, and that it is impossible for a boat to berth on the turn in the wall. In this way considerable dock space is lost.

The work of filling in on the Western front was also described by the speaker who stated that a road is to be built to the foot of the above grade when the filling is completed, and that there would be an area filled in on either side which would be of great value as space for the erection of buildings necessary in commercial development.

BACK COUNTRY NEEDED.
"You cannot build a harbor with docks, and quay walls and piers alone," the speaker declared. "You must have a back country feeding your harbor. Oakland has back of her the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys as well as the Santa Clara valley. With this great hinterland on the continental side she has the finest natural site for a harbor in the world. She lacks her markets before and behind her."

"But if you wish to build a harbor," the speaker continued, "you must get back of the project with the spirit of citizenship. The community which is behind the building of the harbor and undivided community must get back of the proposition."

In conclusion he said: "Let the people of this community get together. By taking an active interest and co-operating you can build up a harbor here that is second to none on the coast."

White Robed Poses Parade in Oklahoma
ENID, Okla., Oct. 28.—A parade of approximately 250 automobiles, each containing four or five men clad in white robes and hoods, Wednesday night drove through a street here amid a tumult of horns and other noise-making devices. According to reports to the police about a score of colored persons previously had received anonymous warnings to leave town. Several were reported to have fled. The parade was thought to have been a sequel to a pistol fight between officers and two alleged colored thieves in which the colored men were killed and a policeman injured.

Philharmonic Trio Give Varied Program
The second of the Philharmonic Trio concerts was played in Wheeler hall at the University of California last evening by Orley Sec, violinist; Wenceslao Villalpando, cellist, and W. W. Carruth, pianist. It opened with a trio out of Beethoven's first work, a rather stilted trio compared to his later ones and hardly reached by the powers he later developed, yet not altogether unremunerative. It moved with a satisfactory quantity and quality of tone. Chief interest centered in the rendition of Caesar Franck's immortal sonata by Sec and Carruth. Their interpretation was suave and refined rather than vigorous. The sonata is filled with delicate touches which easily are lost in the heroic treatment to which it usually is subjected, but they apparently had hunted for these and did not pass them by. The second movement was particularly noticeable for its reserve. Through the several refrains of the exquisite canon in the last movement they rose to an impressive climax. Three Dvorak dances, curious as to rhythm and more curious as to harmony, made a dashing close.—R. H. D.

IS IT A PELICANIBAL?

DIMOND DISTRICT'S BIG GROWTH

DIMOND HAS A WELL-DEVELOPED BUSINESS CENTER

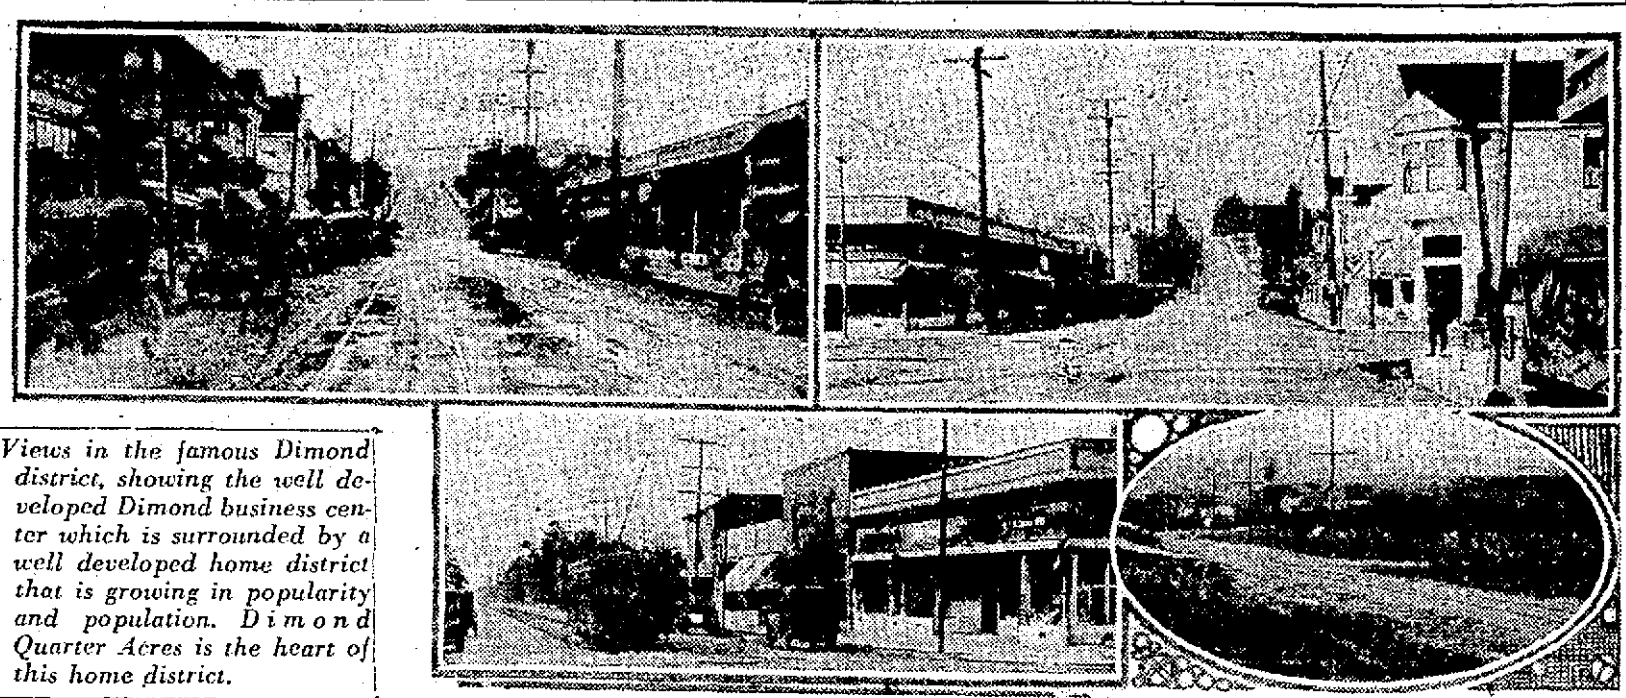

Everything That Is Used In the Home Can Be Had in Dimond Stores.

Although Dimond now has an up-to-date business center at the corner of Fruitvale Avenue and Hopkins Street, fifteen years ago there were no stores whatever on the south side of Hopkins Street and only a few small structures, mostly saloons, along the north side, near Fruitvale Avenue. Even as late as six years ago the center had not become particularly impressive. During the past five years, however, the whole district has grown rapidly and there are now over forty stores occupied by prosperous businesses within a block of the above corner. Two of the corner buildings are occupied exclusively by stores and the other two have offices above.

Prominent among the larger stores stands the Dimond Grocery Company, of which Caesar Sobrero is manager. This company had its inception in 1906 when Mr. Sobrero opened a small store on the north-east corner of Hopkins and Fruitvale Avenue, diagonally opposite to the present store. In fifteen years the business has grown until this is said to be the largest grocery store east of Broadway. When the business was started, one horse and wagon did all the delivery work. At the time that the change was made to auto delivery a few years ago, twenty-six horses were stabled by this department of the company. Today eleven auto delivery trucks are required to handle delivery work for the big store and the branch store at Fruitvale and Blossom Avenues. The company now employs twenty-two men and women, five of whom are in the bakery department in which are prepared all the bread, cakes and pastry sold by the store. This store also handles fruits, cured meats and delicatessen goods in addition to staple lines of groceries.

Dimond Fruit Supply is a new but prosperous and growing institution conducted by Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Almavay. Paul Carlson, proprietor of the Hopkins Street Market, has an unusually progressive store with a large stock of fresh meats and employs four people all of whom are kept very busy during the shopping hours of the day. D. J. Regan and his partner, Mr. Rich, have a good business in re-sales of homes and lots. Mrs. Pearl Campbell, proprietress of the Dimond Dry Goods Company, began business six years ago with a small stock of notions and a business so small she hardly found it necessary to count the cash taken in during the day. Today this store carries a large and varied stock of goods. The store celebrates its anniversary November 1. The Dimond Fruit Supply Company is conducted by Messrs. Anderson and Giambroni, both well known residents of the district. O. Peterson does the shoe and repair business of the district in his store just east of the corner of Fruitvale and Hopkins. W. H. Parker has a very extensive business in dyeing and cleaning, not only in his own neighborhood, but throughout a large part of the city. G. M. Tuley has the hardware stock of the district. His store is known as the Hopkins Street Hardware Company and specializes in roofing, paints and builders' hardware. The Dimond Bakery is managed by D. Rosen, who has installed the first automatic oven in Alameda County. This bakery employs twelve people in its light, sanitary and attractive place. C. L. Adams, plasterer, has a reputation that extends throughout Oakland. Arno L. E. has recently opened the Quality Bakery and Confectionery and has

DIMOND DISTRICT IS A REAL BUSINESS CENTER

Views in the famous Dimond district, showing the well-developed Dimond business center which is surrounded by a well developed home district that is growing in popularity and population. Dimond Quarter Acres is the heart of this home district.

TRANSPORTATION TO DIMOND IS FIRST CLASS

Many Car Lines Reach the District From All Main Centers.

The street car service to Dimond is among the best afforded to the various foothill sections of the city. In fact few cities have a residence section offering the many advantages of the Dimond district, which are so easily accessible. Altogether, there are four routes by which the trip to and from the city may be made. First and most direct is the "G" line, or Hopkins street, which runs east from Washington on Twelfth street to First Avenue and thence by East Eleventh street, Fourteenth Avenue and Hopkins street, crossing Fruitvale Avenue and continuing to Thirtieth Avenue. Cars on this line run every ten minutes and the running time from Twelfth and Broadway to Hopkins and Fruitvale is 25 minutes.

Three lines from downtown connect with the Fruitvale Avenue car, which runs every ten minutes from the Fruitvale section north to Dimond. The most important of these connecting lines is line 8, which includes Hayward, San Leandro, Elmhurst and Thirty-eighth Avenue cars. All these cars run east from Washington on Thirteenth street, afterward reaching Fourteenth street and continuing east, crossing Fruitvale Avenue.

Line 7 leaves the Sixteenth street depot and crosses Broadway at Thirteenth street, proceeding east around the foot of Lake Merritt and in an easterly direction crossing Fruitvale Avenue at Foothill boulevard.

done a good business right from the start. Mrs. C. E. Mount conducts a real estate business on Fruitvale Avenue and is known as a successful business woman.

In addition to the firms mentioned, there are many others in Dimond including a drug store, several restaurants, barber shops, confectionery shops, etc. Everything needed in the home can be supplied at Dimond.

CREATION OF THE KNOCKER AND BOOSTER

Here is an offering to the point invented by some word juggler of real ability:

When the Creator had made all the good things, it seemed there was still some dirty work to do, so He made the beasts, and the reptiles and the poisonous insects; and when He had finished He still had some old scraps left over that were too bad to put into the rattlesnake, and the hyena, the scorpion and the skunk; so He put all these together, covered it with superstition, wrapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak, and called it a KNOCKER.

This product was so fearful to contemplate that He had to make something to counteract it, so He took a sunbeam, put it into the heart of a child, the brain of a man, wrapped it in civility, covered it with brotherly love, made it a believer in equality and justice, a worker for and supporter of every good thing in the community, and called it a BOOSTER.

and thenceforth mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates.

After making a study of the gas-heating appliances and realizing therefrom that from 50 to 75 per cent of the heat units in the gas were lost by the manner in which the heat is applied to the heating unit, in such a way that the water could be pre-heated and reheated, that in that event rapid circulation would follow, is what caused Gelder to perfect his patent. After working for a period of five years, Gelder has perfected and patented The Gelder pre-heating and reheating water disc and spreader, which has a heating surface of 90 square inches for the average domestic boiler.

The burners are especially constructed to consume the least amount of gas and to give the greatest amount of heat. It is claimed that this is the only atmospheric gas burner used in any gas boiler that will not corrode or stop up by particles falling from the disc or spreader, but is absolutely free and clean at all times. It is claimed for this boiler that it is extremely simple in construction and can be operated by any one; that it is absolutely foolproof; that it cannot be gotten out of order by anyone fooling with it, and when once installed and adjusted, needs no more attention, as the burner can never be stopped up. The boiler for the average residence can be heated from top to bottom, in 16 minutes, with 16 feet of gas, to about 150 degrees, Fahrenheit, or at a cost of about 1 cent a bath.

Mr. Gelder and his associates expect to build a factory in Oakland for the manufacture of the entire product at a cost of about $150,000, and will employ about 75 or 100 men.

CHINESE AMUCK WITH GUN. HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 25.—Jack Son Hong, a cafe proprietor here, ran amuck last night, stabbed his wife, shot two of his Chinese employees, one probably fatally, then killed himself with a bullet through the head. Mrs. Hong, stabbed with a pair of scissors, jumped from a second story window, fracturing her skull. She is reported dying. One of the hired men, H. Lung, has a bullet wound in the abdomen. The other is believed not seriously hurt.

DIMOND IS A HOME DISTRICT PAR EXCELLENCE

Comfortable Bungalows and Expensive Mansions Are Found.

From a small beginning the residence section of Dimond has had a remarkable growth. Fifteen years ago there were barely 1500 residents in the entire district. Today the population is estimated at approximately 50,000. Fifteen years ago there were only scattered houses to the south of Hopkins Street. Today there are many fine residences in all directions from the business center. It is claimed by the residents of this beautiful and slightly district that it has grown faster than any other portion of Oakland. Not only has the population increased rapidly, but a very great majority of the people in Dimond are home owners and good neighbors.

The character of houses built in Dimond embraces many sizes and types of architecture, all generally attractive, whether the unpretentious home of the family of modest means or the $50,000 mansion of Dimond's prominent citizens who live on Park boulevard, Fourth Avenue, Fruitvale Avenue, etc. In any part of it the new home-maker is sure of good neighbors.

The growth of Dimond has been especially rapid during the past few years, owing largely to its accessibility to the manufacturing districts, and many homes have been started to the east of Fruitvale Avenue by workmen employed in the various factories. Nothing has done more to establish the district on a firm basis than the fact of these men and their families settling here.

Dimond is very favorably situated with regard to the ocean fogs. These fogs which cover the bay and the lowlands very seldom reach as far back as Dimond and the afternoons and evenings are usually not on the section is also fortunate in its hard-surfaced streets.

Hopkins Street has been paved for several years and Fruitvale Avenue, which was in very bad condition, has just been repaved with concrete and asphalt, so that automobile travel is now safe and comfortable both toward the corner of Oakland and to the highways which extend eastward from the city.

Annual Grape Report Ready
The annual grape report of the state department of agriculture is now ready for distribution and will be mailed to the growers, whose names are on the list of the viticulture service. This list comprises most of the grape growers of the state. Those who are not on the list or who may have been overlooked can obtain a copy by addressing a request to the viticulture service of the state department of agriculture, Sacramento, Cal.

In the main this report deals with the present status of the California grape industry. Comments on this QUARTER-ACRE HOME PLOTS CHASE H. C. L.

What Can Be Done Upon One Of the Home Sites Now in Fashion.

The development of the Dimond district has proved one thing in home ownership—the great value of quarter-acre plots over the single lot. Dimond has been built largely upon the quarter-acre plot plan, which has resulted in a multitude of comfortable homes, each with its own garden plot, a few chickens and a real chance to cut some of the H. C. of L.

The ordinary tract lot is 25x100 feet. If a tract manager is generous and the tract is far out he makes his lots 50x100. A quarter-acre is roughly 100x100 feet in size, or four ordinary lots. A 25-foot lot will carry an ordinary bungalow and leave a little space front and rear. If a 25-foot lot is sufficient to give comfortable house room, a plot four times as large will give house room, a garage and at least a space 50x100 on which to raise chickens and vegetables. This is ample space to provide all the vegetables, berries and chickens that an ordinary family can consume, and even leave some to sell. A family of four on such a plot of ground can, with ordinary industry, raise enough to supply their own table and leave a marketable balance that will furnish all the meat and groceries and possibly apply on the clothing account. Certainly the table can be furnished, and then, there is no rent to pay. The development of Dimond has taught this lesson.

DIMOND DISTRICT, HOMES AND BUSINESS

SEULBERGER IS FLOWER JUDGE

J. Fred Seulberger, county horticultural commissioner, was in Los Angeles last week in attendance on the fifty-fourth convention of the Fruit Growers, which was held in that city October 24 to 28 inclusive. Seulberger attended at the special request of G. E. Hecke, state director of agriculture, as the Alameda county commissioner is one of the best experts upon packing, standardization and pests connected with the agricultural service of the state. Oakland is the terminus of all railroads and truck lines and the packing and standardization are under constant supervision at this point, while pests are watched carefully at every cannery and shipping point.

This convention was the largest ever held in California. It took place in the exposition building at Exposition park, and hundreds of wonderful specimens of plants and shrubs were exhibited by growers from all over the United States.

Western Union Supplants Postal

The Postal Telegraph Cable Company has been given permission by the Railroad Commission to abandon telegraph stations along the line of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railway, now owned by the Santa Fe. The Postal's contract expired on October 15 and the Western Union under its general agreement with the Santa Fe will take over the stations so that there will be no impairment of service.

PAINT AND SAVE

G. M. Tuley is strong for the idea that it costs less to paint a house than it does to have to rebuild it because you forgot to paint it.

These were exhibited growing in the park, and Los Angeles required that once having been planted they had to be left in the ground, and Exposition park has now been planted as a flower garden in the United States.

During his stay in Los Angeles Seulberger was chosen as one of the judges of the flower show that was held at the same time as the Fruit Growers' convention.

But for political reasons Queen Elizabeth would have married the Earl of Leicester.

Many Improvements Are Made Dimond District Much Alive Improvement Club Is Active

The greatest district improvement club in the city of Oakland—is what has been said of the Dimond Improvement club. Not only is this club great by virtue of its membership of more than 600, but its officers and members take great pride in pointing to its record of participation in many important movements for the betterment of their community and the acceleration of its rapid growth and development. Without attempting to fully enumerate all of the work of the organization, attention is called to a few of the more important things as follows:

This paving of Fruitvale avenue, which had been delayed for years. Securing better police protection for the residence streets and the appointment of members of the Dimond Protective League as special police to assist in this work.

The securing of 3000 names on a petition which was presented to the city council and which resulted in the retention of the local fire station and installation of more modern equipment.

Double tracking of Fourth avenue.

READY FOR WORK

The thing that impresses one most in coming into contact with Caesar Sobrero is his bigness—not just size, though he is a fine upstanding figure of a man, but he is a man of big ideas although modest personality. It is not at all surprising that he has built up the big grocery business of which he is manager, for he keeps his overalls on and his sleeves rolled up ready for work from early till late.

BUSINESS GROWTH

Mrs. Pearl Campbell started the Dimond Dry Goods company by buying out a little notions store because she wanted to be busy. It looks as though she had found the work congenial for the six-year-old dry goods store is a credit to the best energies of a capable manageress.

DIMOND DYES

W. H. Parker has an ambition to make Dimond the center for the dyeing and cleaning business of Oakland.

Paving Fruitvale

Avenue Appreciated

The biggest thing that has been done for Dimond for years is the paving of Fruitvale avenue. This is now as fine a street as there is in Oakland. The street car company promises to complete its part of the street as soon as the plans are completed for improving the street car service on that line. Big improvements are expected.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1921.

OAKLAND STILL A SPLENDID CITY FOR HOMES, INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS.

In the speeches and propaganda disseminated by the advocates of the new charter scheme to divide Alameda county there has appeared overmuch of distortion and sheer mendacity, calculated to spread a harmful false impression regarding the character of the Oakland city government. Dr. George C. Pardee, director-in-chief of the campaign for the adoption of the new charter scheme, has several times stated that ninety-three per cent of the total expenditures of the city government of Oakland goes for "salaries and overhead."

Mayor Davis, in a statement published in yesterday's TRIBUNE, shows that such is very far from the case. The mayor gives figures contained in the auditor's report of financial operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, and a check of the auditor's report shows the mayor to be correct in every respect.

Here are some of the official figures: Oakland's total municipal expenditures last fiscal year were $4,260,477.95. Of this amount there was spent for interest and redemption on bonds, $614,295.99; for street, park, playground and public buildings, lighting power and water, $381,734.36; and for other purposes other than personal service, such as improvements, maintenance, supplies, etc., $832,672.27. These three items amount to $1,828,702.62 and consumed 42.5 per cent of the total expenditures.

Thus under the most generous interpretation of the facts, the expenditures for "salaries and overhead" last fiscal year amounted to only 57.5 per cent. This is the actual portion that went for "personal service," that is, for salaries of officials and employees and wages for school teachers, city laborers, policemen and firemen. The personnel of the police and fire departments, required $1,111,328.27. The city appropriated $206,098.61 to be handed over to the school board to be used as compensation for teachers. Other wage costs in the public service department brought the total for this purpose up to $2,233,489.52.

No one with an iota of intellectual honesty will contend that the wages of school teachers, laborers, policemen and firemen should be classified as "salaries and overhead." It is the cost of necessary public service, required by law and public demand and, as Mayor Davis points out, cannot be reduced by a new charter scheme or any other means except depopulation of the community.

As to the overhead cost of government, that item is to be found exclusively in the administrative offices. And it happens that it is in these offices alone that the advocates of the new charter make their general claim of a possible reduction of expenses. They include the mayor, the council, city clerk, city attorney, assessor and auditor, tax collector, treasurer, license bureau, etc. These are offices of direction, accounting and records, and while they render essential public service, they are by convenience classified as the "overhead" of government. The fiscal records show that last year they entailed a total cost of $197,618.96.

This total overhead cost is equivalent to 4.6 per cent of the total expenditures and the mayor is wholly correct in his contention that it constitutes the sole item that may justifiably be called "salaries and overhead." It is equal to a per capita cost of $0.90, which with the city's share of the overhead cost of the county government makes the total per capita overhead cost of government in Oakland $1.23.

These are facts and figures to the credit of Oakland when she is bidding for new residents and new business and industries. They should not be distorted to the harm of Oakland during a political effort to bring about a change in the city administration. Fortunately all outsiders are not deceived by political tricks and demagoguery, as the steady growth of industries, the hundreds of new enterprises that have located in Oakland during the last two years, testify.

In this connection it is interesting to note, in an article by Mr. H. J. Fitzgerald, an authority on municipal government, in the November issue of the magazine, comparisons of the overhead cost in twenty-three western cities. Against Oakland's overhead, which he gives as $1.38, Los Angeles has a per capita overhead cost of $3.18, San Francisco, $3.24, Seattle $3.86, Portland $2.79, Denver—where a consolidated city and county government has been in operation a number of years—$2.83, Salt Lake $1.69, San Diego $2.34, Sacramento $1.83, Pasadena $2.23, Stockton $1.76, and Ogden $1.73.

As to other departmental costs, it is found that where the police department in Oakland costs $1.64 per capita, it costs $1.94 in Los Angeles, $3.08 in San Francisco, $2.03 in Seattle, $1.82 in Portland, $1.67 in El Paso, $2.20 in San Diego, $1.66 in Stockton, and $1.57 in Sacramento. In Oakland the per capita cost of the Fire Department is less than in San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Spokane, Tacoma, San Diego, Berkeley, Fresno, Pueblo, Stockton, and Boise. The per capita cost of health and sanitation is less than ten of the cities mentioned, and the per capita cost of education is less than in five other cities in the list.

Yet the quality of protection for person and property, of health provisions and of the educational system is as high in Oakland as in any other city on the Pacific Coast. It is a safe, healthy, hospitable and economical place for homes, for industry and for business.

A community is libeled and injured by those who pervert and obscure the truth, who discount its attractions and who wantonly magnify its disadvantages. Whatever the outcome of the new charter plot those who love their city will see that their city is done the minimum amount of harm.

THE BLANTON CASE.

Representative Blanton of Texas yesterday underwent a painful ordeal in the Lower House of Congress. By an unanimous vote of his colleagues he was ordered before the bar of the House to receive, through the Speaker, the official censure of that legislative chamber. Speaker Gillett described his offense in solemn words:

"You have inserted foul and obscene matter in the Congressional Record, matter which you could not deliver on the floor of the House and which could not be circulated in the mails without violating the law. Because of this I hereby pronounce upon you the censure of the House."

At the conclusion of the condemnation, Representative Blanton probably did not dwell upon the merciful fortune that caused the resolution for his expulsion from Congress to be defeated by a scant eight votes less than the necessary two-thirds vote. Realization that his fellow members had risen in righteous anger to pronounce public and official censure of him was a heavy blow. He walked from the chamber and fell upon his face in a faint.

This discipline of the Texas member was necessary to the self-respect and dignity of the whole Congress. The offense was grievous—a crime against the federal statute as well as against morality and decency. The palliating circumstances, if there were any, have not been disclosed. As Representative Mondell said, the crime was deliberately done. But Representative Blanton is one whose grasp upon himself has often proved faulty. He has offended decorum frequently in the past. And the misuse of the privilege of "extending" his remarks in the Record was perhaps the act of one whose lack of comprehension of the fundamentals of right conduct is inadequate, rather than the result of a vicious and unlawful motive. Presumably the House took this charitable view of the matter—at least Mr. Blanton's colleagues on the Democratic side.

Representative Blanton will probably retire from Congress, or be retired by his constituency. But will the abuse of the rule of "leave to extend remarks" in the Record be corrected by his example?

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY LIES.

It is easy to understand the alacrity with which the Oakland Real Estate Board wrote a letter to the city council apologizing for the remarks of Fred E. Reed before the Merchants' Exchange Tuesday evening, during which, with course and amazing phrases, Reed confessed that the new charter scheme he advocated was the means and opportunity to oust the present city administration. One can understand why every good citizen should feel like offering an apology for such conduct.

But strictly speaking, it was not the Real Estate Board's business to be first to apologize and repudiate. Reed was not the representative of the board. He did not claim to speak for it or any of its members.

It was the Alameda County Charter League, which is directing the campaign for the new charter scheme, which Reed represented. He appeared as its spokesman. He was the first to speak on a resolution contemplating endorsement by the Merchants' Exchange of the new charter. He was the mouthpiece of the Alameda County Charter League; he voiced its sentiments, disclosed its main motive and unmasked its theretofore secret ambitions.

Responsibility for Reed's conduct and statements rests squarely upon the Alameda County Charter League managers and the organized advocates of the new charter scheme. There is no good reason why the Real Estate Board should be permitted to raise a smoke screen by which the public eye will be diverted from the charter league's responsibility.

NOTES and COMMENT

Scientific persons are busy correcting some beliefs and understandings that have been long and generally accepted. We have been informed recently that Newton was wrong about the law of gravitation, and a solon from up Vancouver way now declares that food does not give us energy, that "energy is external to all bodies." The iconoclast can go too far. If he keeps on he may make an assertion that will have to be looked into.

If it is true that film pictures depicting scenes where persons guilty of atrocious crimes are dealt summary punishment are vigorously applauded it must be due to a sense on the part of the law-abiding that regularly constituted justice is not showing itself equal to the enormities that are arising. Though it is one which should not prevail, there are repeated occurrences to sustain such argument.

Bread prices are to come down another cent. Their direction is all right, but their movement is very slow—not in quick sympathy with the price of their main ingredients. But such titbits are not sympathetic in these later times, as they were figured on in that stretch of normalcy before the world war, when there was reasonable analogy between cause and effect as to prices.

"Hungary requests Charles abdication." Aside from the fact that Charles hasn't much to abdicate in the differentiation as to methods in such cases. Other countries do not go to the polite extreme of making requests. If the potentate does not take the unannounced hint they have been in a way of unconsciously tipping him off his throne. Charles is fortunate that such consideration is shown.

It may be of interest in some quarters that money paid on cheques in gambling debts in Great Britain is recoverable. But the striking thing about this new law is that it required action by the House of Lords. The rule that was especially observed over there—that a bet is a debt of honor to be paid before any other—seems to have needed bracing.

If Sacramento could have staged its tornado at State fair time, and had it performed on lines of Wednesday's display, it would have been a better show than that stunt of running two locomotives amuck. It would have produced a thrill that the crash of two railway engines, meeting at full speed on the same track, could not be expected to equal.

The Stockton Record tells of Chinese ingenuity: "When the police raided Montreal's Chinatown and carried away all of the gambling devices, Oo Bok Qui, the gambling king, introduced a new game. He supplied his friends with cubes of sugar. The players formed a jackpot and sat at a table, each with a lamp in front of him. The first one whose lump of sugar a fly alighted took the pot."

A great point would be to get the public universally to understand about the traffic laws and rules. But there is the same difficulty in this that there is as to other laws. The consequences of not understanding traffic laws are more serious than in most other cases, however. The swift or unimpaired person abroad with an automobile, has infinitely greater capacity for harm than he who is ignorant of or disregards almost any other law.

Rio Janeiro is to hold a centennial exposition next year. It will be the considerable duty of captains of industry and trade of this country to participate. Besides, it will be interesting to see how such affairs are managed by other peoples. There have been several instances of how we are able to get away with these big shows.

A singular case is reported from New York. One Briggs, publisher of the Crusader, a negro periodical, sued one Garvey, publisher of the Negro World, for libel. The libel was an assertion that the complainant is a white man, posing as a negro. And the magazine ruled that there existed a cause for action.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

Had anybody predicted wireless telegraphy a generation ago, he would have been called a dreamer. But now we have wireless messages sent across the Atlantic reproduced in the handwriting of the sender, as instanced the other day in a communication from General Pershing in Paris, transmitted to the naval radio station at Bar Harbor, Maine.—Sacramento Bee.

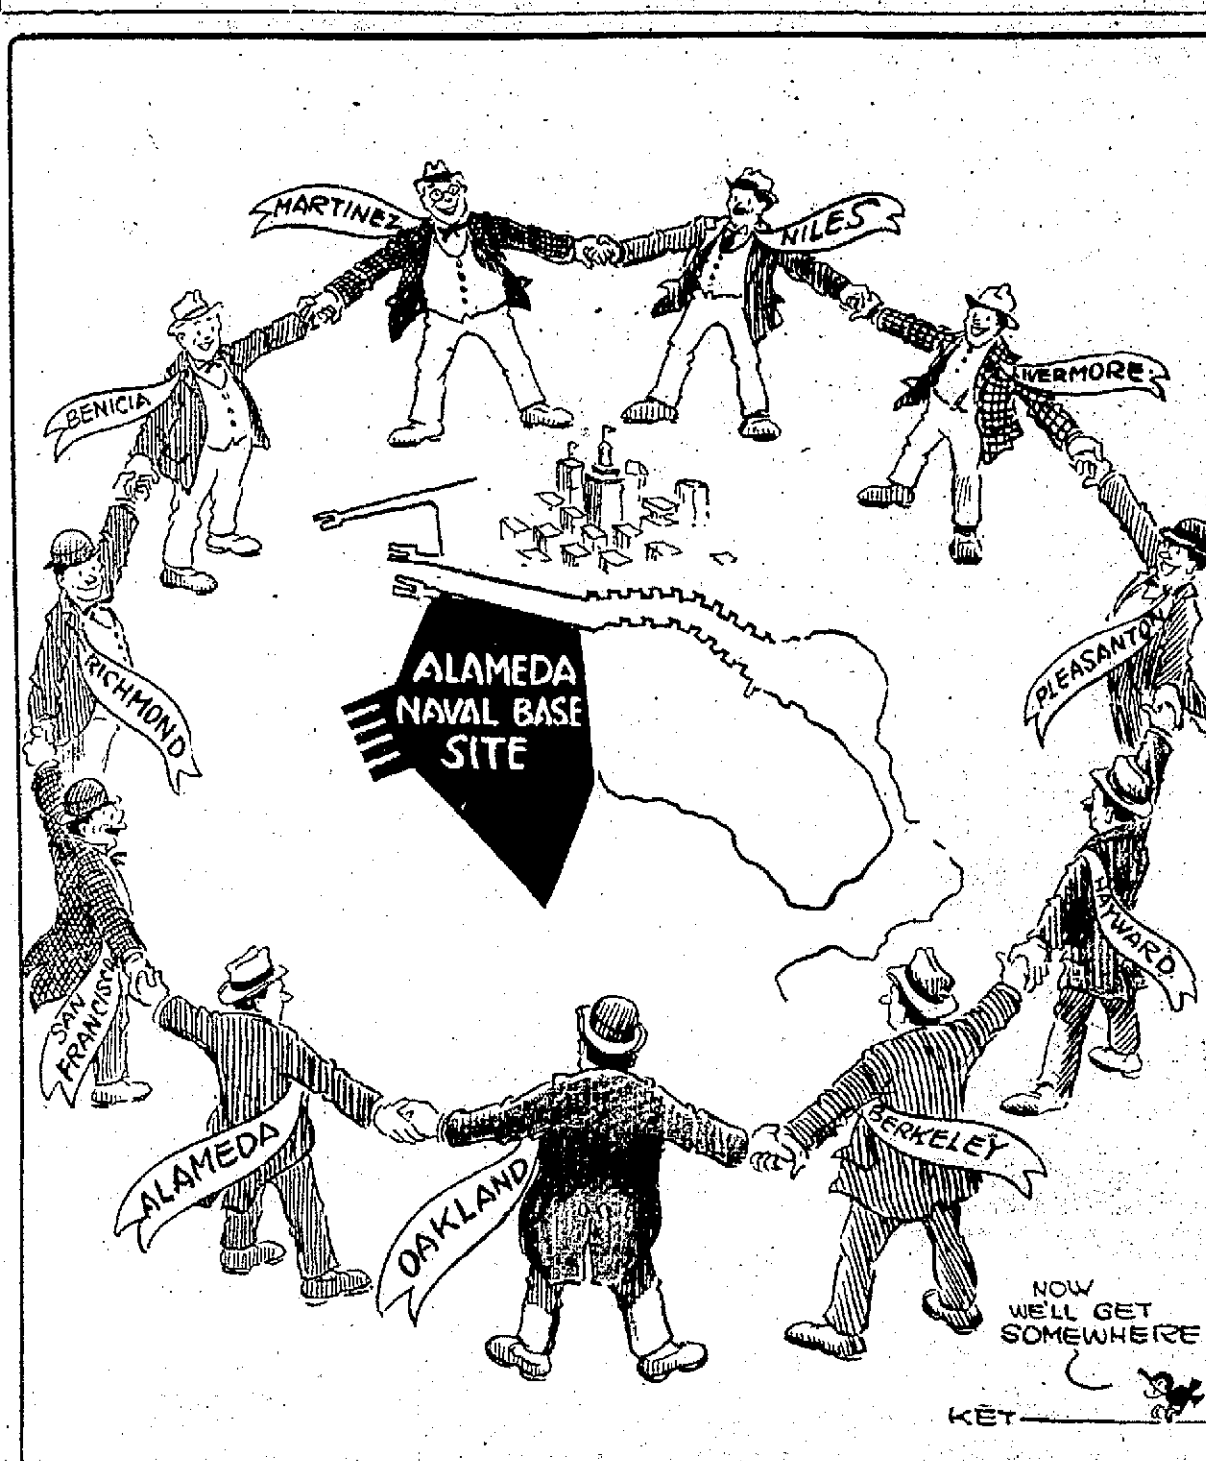

Fresno is going to hale into the police courts those motorists who give the wrong traffic signals. This is the result of several recent automobile collisions caused by mistaken motoring signals. It is going to be up to a man to "say it with his arms" and say it right regardless of good intentions.—Stockton Record.

Watsonville, which is known as the "apple city," but has no more other agricultural interests, is shipping 30,000 worth of sugar beets daily. Everything grows in the Salinas valley, including the farmers' bank accounts.—Watsonville Register.

Anticipating the railroad strike, which is scheduled to start Monday, October 31, the Spreckels Sugar Company is hurrying along shipments of beets from this valley. The sugar beet has grown in all the best lands in this territory and urged them to put on more men and teams in order that deliveries may be increased.—Pittsburg Times.

HANDS AROUND THE BASE.

JUST FOLKS: By EDGAR A. GUEST

BUY ME AN ICE CREAM SODA, PLEASE.
I'm truly sorry for the man
Who misses all such joys as these,
Who never hears and never can
From little lips their many pleas:
"Get me some chocolate candy, and Buy me an ice cream soda, please!"
Light-hearted people go and come,
And pause before the shining
They hear their children's: "Buy me some!"
"Oh, daddy! There are lollypops!
But no one begs him for a drum:
Or horn or music-making tops."
Alone he walks the crowded streets
And looks at things he never needs.
The painted trinkets and the sweets,
The wooly dogs and colored beads,

CALIFORNIA GULF

"The new Mexican harbor at Rocky Point, on St. George's Bay, which, despatches state, is to be developed very soon, will open to passenger traffic and commercial development a rich portion of southwestern United States, as well as a part of the North American Continent on the Gulf of California that is little known and explored," according to a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from its Washington, D. C. headquarters.
The Bay of St. George marks the northern limit of deep water in the Gulf of California, and when its new harbor is connected by a short spur of track with the railroad already in existence, there will be an all-water outlet through the Panama Canal to eastern United States for the mines of Arizona. Once, just after the Civil War, the people of the Arizona mines had all their supplies brought there from California by water, the ships steaming down the California coast up the Gulf and the Colorado river to Yuma, and now it seems that the old method of handling their products will come into vogue again.
The Gulf of California, of which we Americans hear so seldom, ranks among the largest in the world. If it were stretched out inland over our country from New York harbor, it would swallow up a broad stretch of country from 30 to 150 miles wide back as far as Detroit and its busy factories. It was shown on the early maps of North America as the Sea of Cortez, since this bold corsair explored it first. Its depth varies from 600 to 6000 feet, its coast line on both sides is irregular, and in it are many islands, Angel de la Guarda and Tiburón being the largest. The latter island, points its rocky crest 7000 feet above the level of the sea, and is inhabited by a fierce and warlike tribe of Indians, the Seris, who, it is claimed, have cannibalistic instincts.
ATTRACTED TREASURE HUNTERS.
"The Bay of St. George itself is a broad open sheet of water on the eastern side of the Gulf, about 200 miles north of Guaymas, a town of 25,000 inhabitants, on Guaymas Bay, one of the most beautiful harbors in the world. Rocky Point lies on the northern edge, not far from its mouth of the Sonora River. From its shores back into the country there are vast areas of sand-dunes, or los medianos, as the natives call them. In fact, this term is applied to the whole of the upper part of the Gulf coast of the Colorado. The mere name recalls sensations of burning heat, trackless wastes, parched throats, rattlesnakes and other reptiles. Though stores of the fabulous deposits of gold and silver existing in this barren region are rife in the neighboring country, little is actually known of what wealth it contains, as most of the prospectors who have ventured into its lonely reaches have never returned to tell their stories.
"The whole of this upper northern part of the Mexican State of Sonora is included in what is locally known as Papagueria, the home of the Papago Indians—a broad region which slopes down from the mountains in southeastern Arizona toward the Gulf of California and northward to the Gila River, and is much the same that the tribe held at the time of the coming of the Spaniards. These natives are strong and healthy, possess force of character, and are industrious and of an even temper. They have almost completely adopted the white man's garments and are fast acquiring his customs and modes of living.
"On the southern edge of the Bay of St. George is the Salina de St. George, a salt deposit, usually measuring about 325 feet in diameter, but sometimes entirely covered by the sea, which is a favorite with the Papagos. When they need salt, the customary method is to ride to the foothills of Chihuahua, perform a certain ceremonial rite peculiar to the gathering of salt, and then walk the fifty miles to the salina in about a day and a half. There is no water to be had between the two places. The Pinate Salt deposit, about fifty miles farther north on the Gulf shore, however, has always furnished the major portion of the salt supply of the Papago Indians.
"The building of the harbor and the establishing of lines of trade through the Gulf of California will probably furnish anglers with a few more rare fish stories. There is a wealth of fish and a multitudinous variety of fish in its waters. Today these fish which would furnish the material for running large canneries are feeding innumerable pelicans, and other fish-eating birds. The natives and the Mexicans are without skill and the facilities for catching them. They usually "stiff-fish" at great depths for the jewfish and tortuvas and kill their catches by pounding them on the head when they get them near the surface.
"La Paz, the capital of the southern district of Lower California and Santa Rosalia, the shipping point for millions of dollars' worth of copper each year—both lying on the western coast of the Gulf—will probably profit by the development of the new harbor."

GREAT SCHOLAR DEAD.
What was described as one of the most remarkable minds in America was stilled today in the death of Dr. Gotthard Deutsch, dean of the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati. Dr. Deutsch, 62, died of pneumonia at his home, 3800 Willson avenue. He had been ill a week.
His mind was called encyclopedic. It was a perfect storehouse of world history, especially Jewish history. It carried a vast quantity of historic facts and dates. It had at ready command quotations from classical Jewish and secular literature. Dr. Deutsch could quote the Bible chapter and verse, from memory.—New York Times.

TO HONOR BEASTS OF WAR.
Today at the War Department there will be unveiled a tablet dedicated to the memory of some of the American army's unknown soldiers who were killed in France—the horses and mules which bore the brunt and died in action, either under fire or from overwork. The President hopes to be able to join Secretary Weeks at the ceremony.

WHY SO MANY MARRIED.
The Washington statisticians are puzzled over the large number of marriages this year. Some of them believe that the number may reach 1,500,000 by New Year's. The philosophers of the Government bureau say they don't understand the great rush for the yoke. This country lost few men during the war, and this is why men cannot find a social or economic solution of the puzzle. The trouble with the statisticians' philosophers is that they took too far. They should inspect the simple, homely things of life.
For example, there are the motion pictures. John has been taking Gladys to see them every week for a couple of years. He is chafed, frustrated and lured to death. How can he resist? Well, he has heard that one of the prerogatives of married men is to refuse on the mere ground of weariness, to go to the theater. So he proposes.
There is the motorcar. Few single men buy passenger cars. They have no excuse, no home with a garage, no patient companion to listen to long-winded discourses on car-bumper discords. It is not proper to take a fiancée on a week-end trip for fear of a breakdown. Without the family automobile the yearning for a car results in the buying first of a single-cylinder diamond.

There is prohibition. The passing of the saloon has brought a void into the lives of some young men. There is no place to go to find an argument, no thought of marrying, of having somebody who will talk back, of being the lord of a house, of having a cellar—occurs to the lonely wretch. He speaks the three or four necessary words; she murmurs one. Finally—and the graybeards in Washington ought to see them—there are the girls. Each year as misers men becomes uglier woman grows more divine. The wonder is that the wedding ring makers are for the dearth of the Southern Pacific to San Francisco.

AN OLD KANSAS BIT SETTLED.
When they started to tear down the steeple of the Methodist Church one thing was settled: "A great many years ago, when the church building was new and the steeple just built, on day Col. C. E. Gifford, Sam Langworthy and a number of other men walked into Tom Gowenlock's drug store and called for cigars. After they had all lit up and started out, Gowenlock asked who was paying for the smokes. 'It's a bet,' was the reply. 'Sam Langworthy has bet Colonel Gifford that when the Methodist Church steeple falls down it will fall to the north. Colonel Gifford bets that it will fall to the south. Who ever loses pays for the cigars.' It is reported that Gowenlock worked the price of the cigars into the bills of both gentlemen, which they eventually paid unbeknownst. Gowenlock to refund the money when the steeple fell down. The steeple is down and fell to the north. All three of the gentlemen, Gifford, Gowenlock and Langworthy, passed to their final reward years ago.—Clay Center Times.

Picturequeness Unappreciated.
Isn't there a moonshine distillery somewhere up in these hills?
"No," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "We used to keep one for scenery, but too many summer boarders got peevish when they found they couldn't take it seriously."—Washington Post.

U. C. STUDENT MEETS DEATH UNDER TRAIN

Youth Is Killed As He Tries to "Beat His Way" With a Chum to Home of Sister; Attempt At Rescue Failure

Despite the efforts of his companion, who ran alongside the train and attempted to drag him to safety, pulling him by the collar just as the trucks ground out his life, Harry Marion Loyd, 19, of Gridley, a university student, is dead today, following his attempt to "beat" his way to Gridley to visit his sister.

Loyd's death occurred last night at the sixteenth-street station as he and Jack Hogshead, another university student, living with Loyd at 2625 Haste street, Berkeley, attempted to leap aboard a Southern Pacific freight train. Both youths were going to beat their way to Gridley to spend the week-end with Loyd's sister, a Mrs. Thersgaard, according to Hogshead after the accident.

As the train passed Loyd made a leap. He grabbed at a handrail and missed and was thrown under the wheels. Hogshead, who was running alongside the train, saw his chum's plight and attempted to drag him from under the train. He seized him by the coat collar and was drawing him to safety as the rear trucks of the car passed over Loyd's body.

Hogshead called for help and the injured boy was taken to a hospital, where he died. In addition to his sister at Gridley, Loyd is survived by an uncle, Harry Holden, residing at 939 East Fourteenth street. Hogshead's home is in Cavallo.

Accused Woman Is Cheered by Daughter's Note

MISS OLGA GRAY, former Berkeley actress, who comforts mother in hour of trial.

Olga Gray's Mother on Trial in Los Angeles Court

Smiles chased away the tears from the face of Mrs. Theresa Caccok, who is on trial with her sister in Los Angeles, charged with buying stolen goods, when, in the courtroom this morning she received a letter from her daughter, Olga Gray, beautiful moving picture actress. The letter follows:

"Dear Little Mother: I will pray all night for your vindication. I would have been at your side today, but I have sprained my arm and cannot come. (Signed) 'OLGA'."

It came as a ray of hope that when the jury returns the verdict she will go free. This film actress' mother is charged jointly with her sister, Mrs. Anna Shief, with having purchased a handful of diamonds and opals for $3000, which James Gordon, a wandering musician, stole from a home in the Wilshire district, Los Angeles. Both she and her sister are gray-haired women.

Miss Gray is well known in the Eastbay district. Some time ago she made her appearance at the Greek theater, Berkeley, in "The Jost." She appeared previously in "Intolerance" and other films, and later at a "little theater" in Los Angeles. More recently she has been in the East.

TO CONFER DEGREE.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 28.—Alameda Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will confer the Royal Arch degree upon a class of candidates tonight. The ceremony will take place in Masonic Temple, Park street and Alameda avenue.

NURSE CITED IN CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

Court Seeks to Determine Why $50,000 Judgment Was Not Paid to Child Injured At Time She Was Attending It

Miss Gertrude Van Beck, trained nurse, was summoned before Superior Judge James Quinn today on an order to show cause why she should not be cited for contempt of court for failure to pay a judgment of $50,000 rendered against her by the court in favor of DeLancey Smith Junior. After a brief examination, in which Miss Van Beck was questioned as to her property, the hearing was continued until December 9 in order to give time for further investigation.

Miss Van Beck was sued for $75,000 damages by DeLancey Smith Junior, through his father as guardian, for personal injuries sustained when, it was alleged, Miss Van Beck left the child alone in a bathtub and the little one turned on the hot water. The boy was badly scalded about the face and arms, resulting in permanent disfigurement. Photographs of the child before the accident and the presence of the child in the courtroom resulted in a judgment for $50,000.

At the examination today it was brought out that Miss Van Beck, in the week following the accident to the Smith child, which occurred on July 16, 1920, had made a gift to her mother of $3000 she had in the bank and had disposed of another fund kept in another bank, for charitable purposes. Her mother lives in Santa Cruz with another daughter.

Herrick Waterfront Suit Is Thrown Out of Court

H. L. Hagan, former city attorney, and Dr. L. F. Herrick were today denied the right to interfere in the suit of the Parr Terminal Company against the City of Oakland to test the validity of the amended lease granted the company in 1919. Superior Judge Dudley F. Kinsell threw the Herrick suit out of court on the grounds that he had no interest in the dispute between Parr and the city.

Hagan, while in office, instituted the suit against the Parr Terminal company, seeking to have invalidated the amended lease by which the Parr company is granted 43 acres of Oakland waterfront property. When the suit of Parr against the City of Oakland was called for hearing today, Hagan and Herrick again attempted to intervene, with the above result.

Fred D. Parr, president of the Parr Terminal company, who was present in court, said:

"I am unable to conceive why Hagan and Herrick are trying to obstruct the project we are developing. There is plenty of room on the waterfront for city property and I will be glad to give the city the benefit of our experience and any other service I can."

Charles Beardsley, attorney for Parr, charged that Hagan in his intervention complaint made false charges and that it was an attempt to bring up the ancient litigation which has hindered the development of the Oakland waterfront since 1852.

Parr declared much capital is available for developing the Oakland waterfront, but that it is waiting until this suit is decided so it will know what treatment to expect.

The suit of Parr against the City of Oakland will go to trial on its merits on Monday, with the litigation confined to those directly interested.

At the examination today it was brought out that Miss Van Beck, in the week following the accident to the Smith child, which occurred on July 16, 1920, had made a gift to her mother of $3000 she had in the bank and had disposed of another fund kept in another bank, for charitable purposes. Her mother lives in Santa Cruz with another daughter.

Chorus Girls Lead to "Inevitable" Divorce
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 24.—Burlesque. The inevitable—divorce—has been brought about by the chorus girls, but went so far as to bring them into his own home," Mrs. Lillian Tompkins filed petition for divorce from Roy V. Tompkins. The chorus girls, Mrs. Tompkins declares in her petition, wrote letters and sent endearing telegrams to her husband, who she declares, told her he would rather associate "with these new friends" than with her.

British Air Prestige Lowered By Wreck
LONDON, Oct. 11.—The wrecked airship ZR-3 (H-38) must not be taken as an example of the best that could be done, writes Major C. C. Turner in the Observer. Major Turner is a veteran balloonist and one of England's foremost exponents of airships.

He adds: "The disaster can hardly be fair, however, to lower British airship prestige."

"The capabilities as well as the design of airships must be put to very searching criticism, for it is only after this preliminary that progress will be attained."

Wedding Is Solemnized In Paris

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Hayden, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Franklin Hayden, of Providence and Newport, R. I., and Tracy Barrett Kirtledge, son of Professor and Mrs. Herbert Kirtledge of Berkeley, was solemnized on Monday, October 10, at 4 o'clock, at the American church, in the rue de Berri, Paris. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chauncey Goodrich, D.D. The civil marriage took place in the morning.

Mrs. James Marshall Shoemaker, sister of the bride, M. Andre Pallain, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and weaver of the Croix de Guerre, son of the Governor of the Bank of France, and Lyman Bryson, director of the Junior Red Cross bureau of the League of Red Cross Societies, were the witnesses for the civil ceremony.

Mrs. Shoemaker also attended her sister at the church as matron of honor. Her son, Master Peter Shoemaker, served as ring-bearer. Kirtledge was accompanied by M. Lewis de Gieglus, captain in the British army reserve, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

Kirtledge, who is a graduate of the University of California and of Oxford, is now serving as assistant secretary-general of the League of Red Cross Societies. He is the author of "Naval Lessons of the Great War," etc., and during the war served on the staff of Admiral Sims in London, and was for a year a member of the staff of the Naval War College at Newport, R. I. He was one of the original members of the Commission for Relief in Belgium and has been continuously associated with the Hoover Relief activities in Europe. After the armistice he was for some time in charge of the emergency relief work of the Hoover organization in the devastated regions in France, with headquarters in Lille, and has been decorated for war services by the American, French and Belgian governments.

Among the guests whom Mrs. Hayden entertained at the Carlton after the ceremony were Sir Claude Hill, director-general of the League of Red Cross Societies, formerly a member of the Viceroy's Council in India; Lady Hill, M. and Mme. Andre Pallain, Dr. Rene Sand, M. and Mme. de Gieglus, Miss Theodora George, Miss Elsie Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bryson, Commander and Mrs. G. P. Auld, M. and Mme. C. Laché, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Burnham, Captain J. W.

MRS. IRWIN BARBOUR, who was Miss Esther Naylor. Mrs. Barbour and her husband first met in the Orient and their marriage last week in Stockholm was the culmination of the romance.

FREE At Your Druggist's THIS WEEK

Your druggist will give you a 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo.

Accept it for your own sake and watch how your hair improves.

We Blended Palm and Olive Oils To beautify your hair

This free 15-cent trial bottle contains ample quantity for one luxurious shampoo, no matter how heavy your hair. Use it and watch results.

See how soft it makes your hair, and how fluffy. Admire the attractive, well-groomed gloss.

Notice how clean it leaves your scalp, how all scurf and dandruff are completely removed. Ordinary shampooing doesn't get these results. They are due to palm and olive oils.

Softening cleansers
Olive oil possesses softening qualities which neutralize the drying effects of washing. Palm oil contributes body, richness and lasting qualities.

In combination they produce a thick, mild, profuse, penetrating lather which softens the scalp and reaches every root and hair cell.

This lather loosens the dandruff scales, dislodges and dissolves them, leaving the scalp and hair free to function healthfully.

Prevents Baldness
This thorough removal of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea, is most necessary, as even the accumulation on healthy scalps injures the hair.

The dry, oily scales clog the roots of the hair, preventing proper nutrition. Soon the hair begins to fall out. Ordinary washing has little effect, often seeming to make the condition worse.

The blend of palm and olive oils you get in Palmolive softens and penetrates the scales, loosening the cap-like accumulation.

Gentle massage forces it into the tissues of the scalp, leaving it healthfully purged and clean.

Silky texture and satiny gloss
Such scientific shampooing is the basis of beauty, for it keeps both hair and scalp in perfect health.

It stimulates circulation, which carries proper nourishment to your hair. It regulates the minute oil glands which give your hair gloss and luster. Hair shampooed with Palmolive is neither brittle nor oily, but soft, glossy and silky.

Present the coupon at once and prove that these statements are true. One shampoo with the blend of palm and olive oils begins the transformation.

15c TRIAL BOTTLE FREE

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to any druggist. It is good for a 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo.

Out-of-town readers, or those unable to obtain the free bottle, should send the coupon to the Palmolive Company, Dept. 1174, Milwaukee, Wis., and the bottle will be sent by mail.

ENGINEERS WILL INSPECT NEW DAM

Members of San Francisco Section, American Society of Civil Engineers, will inspect the San Pablo dam project of the East Bay Water company tomorrow, as guests of the water company.

The party will leave San Francisco at noon tomorrow for the Berkeley station, where they will be met by automobiles, which will take them to the dam project.

The San Pablo dam, when completed next week, will be capable of creating a storage capacity of 14,000,000 gallons of water, enough to supply the entire East Bay district for a period of three years, in case of emergency.

The project has been under construction for the past five years, and has been built at a cost of $3,500,000. George W. Hawley, resident engineer of the project, and George H. Wilhelm, vice-president and general manager of the East Bay Water company, will conduct the engineering party over the project on the inspection tour.

Vanishing Fence Causes City to Post Special Guard

The fence across the Minney tract in East Oakland, alongside the Foothill boulevard, placed across the tract's streets by the Oakland street department, now has a guard parading up and down the Foothill boulevard to prevent the fence getting lost.

When the Oakland city officials decided to cut this tract off the boulevard because the tract was not officially recognized and had no map to show its existence, as required by law, the street department built a fence at the juncture of each of these tract streets and the Foothill boulevard.

On Tuesday the fences disappeared and the tract's streets were connected with the boulevard, just as if nothing had happened.

Yesterday the street department put a new fence across those streets and says the fence will "stay put" till the tract goes through the proper formalities.

"Maybe," qualifies Attorney O. D. Hamlin, for the real estate firm.

"Absolutely," says Commissioner Baccus.

Moves are now being made toward a disarmament conference or something, but meantime the guard is still guarding that fence. It was cold weather last night.

BULLETIN

A wandering street sweeper late today notified the street department that the fence across the entrance to the Moss tract disappeared last night. So did the watchman, who later turned up and said he was not on duty when the fence vanished.

Superintendent of Streets Geo. Mattis immediately ordered the building of a new fence. Another watchman will also be placed on the job.

"We want no more Hallowe'en stunts on that fence," says Mattis. "It is going to stay there if it takes the whole police department."

BRITISH PREMIER IS UNDER ATTACK FROM UNIONISTS

Attempt Is Made by Enemies to Cause the Downfall of Lloyd George.

By EARLE C. REEVES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The greatest campaign of hostility directed against Premier Lloyd George since he took the post of prime minister in December, 1915, is under way today, engineered by a Tory bloc in the House of Commons.

The Unionist campaign against the premier is said to have the following for its chief objectives:

1. Breaking down of the Irish peace conference and the precipitating of a general election with Ireland as the main issue.
 2. Preventing the government from giving independence to Egypt.
 3. Preventing the premier from attending the Washington conference in person.
- The resolution proposed by forty Unionist members of Commons, censuring the premier for the course he has adopted toward Irish peace, will be up for a vote Monday. If it is rejected the premier will accept the result as a vote of confidence in his government and the vote will be regarded as a mandate of public approval. If the resolution should be adopted, it would mean a lack of confidence in the premier. The political adherents of the premier believe the resolution will be completely snuffed under, getting only a negligible number of votes.
- The premier is said to have welcomed the Unionist attack against him. He believes it will enable him to secure more concessions from the Sinn Feiners than he could have hoped otherwise to get.
- The main committee of the British peace delegation conferred and it was understood that the members discussed Ulster.

Film Producers Unite in Fight to Save Arbuckle

By M. D. TRACY

United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The fight to save Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle from prison today had widened into a battle believed by picture producers to involve the entire motion picture industry.

Instead of the supposed half-million-dollar fortune of the famed comedian standing alone as the financial backing of the defense, the money bags of moviedom were said to be open to save Arbuckle.

Lawyers picked not for price but for their success in San Francisco courts have been engaged to conduct the defense.

A nation-wide search for evidence, admittedly costing heavily, was under way today.

Calvin McNabb, recently named chief counsel for Arbuckle, has frankly stated that a group of men with investments in motion pictures have employed him. It was generally believed here that McNabb's fee went high into five figures and perhaps six.

LAWYER SENT EAST.
Charles Brennan, brother of Arbuckle's lawyers, expected to reach Chicago tomorrow on his search for evidence. From there, Brennan was expected to go to New York and Washington, where other witnesses are believed to be located.

Among those he will see in the east will be Lowell Sherman, Broadway favorite and picture star, who

Council of Parents Advocated by Widow

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A council of parents in every town, whose one object would be to look after the welfare of the people, is the desire of Mrs. Knights-Brace, widow of the late bishop of that name. Such a council, says Mrs. Knights-Brace, should be composed of mothers, fathers, men and maidens, who would see to the provision of, besides good housing, proper play spaces for the children and beautiful buildings for music and dancing.

FIRE NEAR RIPON.
STOCKTON, Oct. 28.—Fire near Ripon, believed to have been of incendiary origin, last night destroyed a large barn, eighty-five tons of hay and two autos. A. F. Mello sustained serious burns about the arms and face in saving a blooded bull from the blazing stable. Volunteers saved his home. The loss is $5500, partially covered by insurance. The ranch is farmed by A. F. Mello and M. C. Leal.

Housewives Warned To Shop Carefully

Housewives who accept, without question or investigation, the weights and measures argued at by some dealers are not getting the full value of their money, according to M. P. Scott, of the department of weights and measures, in an address last night before Cooks, Waiters, Waitresses Local No. 21. Scott said:

Make your dollars have some sense. When you order food supplies over the telephone an order to send up four chops or 35 cents worth of sugar is too vague.

Go to the store in person. Ask the prices per pound, or ounce, or whatever it is, of what you are purchasing. So that the scales show you are getting the amount you asked for.

HELP TO MAKE MUSIC WEEK A GREAT SUCCESS

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anæmia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for teeth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It

Use it twice daily, your in and your out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gums shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Kong Wah Herbs Relieved Kidney Trouble Quick

I had kidney trouble for a long time. I tried different doctors and remedies without any good. One old Chinese doctor here in Oakland tried me for eight months without any result. Then I went and consulted the Kong Wah Herb Specialist, who told me I would be all right within two months by drinking his tea. After taking three weeks I began to feel results, and continued for two more weeks I was entirely well. In gratitude I made this testimonial.

FURNITURE MEN BEGIN SESSION IN SANTA CLARA

City Manager Goodwin Extends City's Warmest Welcome to Visitors.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—Close to 200 members of the California Retail Furniture Dealers Association, gathered here from every part of the state, this morning opened their annual convention in this city and afternoon session in the midst of a storm which promises to be of serious importance to the dealers and to the consumers as well.

Brothers-in-law delivered San Jose's official welcome to the visiting delegates this morning at the opening session at the Hotel Vendome when City Manager C. B. Goodwin, President Warren E. Todd of the Santa Clara County Retail Furniture Dealers Association, representing local furniture men, delivered addresses of welcome. The two local leaders married sisters.

City Manager Goodwin, in the same manner in which he has so warmly welcomed other conventions to this city, bespoke the hearty desire of the residents of the community in having the furniture men as their guests.

"The furniture business," he said, "is so intimately connected with the life of this city of beautiful, happy homes which you are here to help for you men as your annual convention. The people welcome you and, I assure you, will watch closely your work here for every home lover is constantly seeking the home furnishings."

Readily sympathizing with the city's welfare, particularly stating the pleasure of the Santa Clara County furniture men at being able to have the state furniture dealers as their guests. He not only spoke as the head of the furniture dealers, but as the president of the Santa Clara County Merchants Association.

Because of the advice of his physician, S. N. Tucker, state president of the furniture dealers, did not take the chair at the opening of the convention this morning. A. H. Voigt, vice-president, presiding in his place. Voigt, read the annual address, prepared by President Tucker, in which the achievements of the association during the past year were recounted and a bright future was predicted for the year ahead.

Credit policy for furniture dealers was among the chief business to come up for consideration at the convention. It appeared certain this afternoon. The dealers have long felt it is stated that because of the large amount of furniture bills the credit system in operation should be made more strict and should be uniform throughout the state.

Import trade was another question to be discussed, while decrease in prices was still another important factor to be taken up by the furniture men.

Clear weather and warm greeted the visitors and all entertainment plans were to be carried out to perfection. It appeared certain this afternoon that a banquet will be held tonight and tomorrow, there will be an outdoor barbecue and an automobile trip throughout the Santa Clara Valley of Heart's Delight.

The local furniture dealers as hosts to the visitors.

Real Problem Of Pacific to Be China: Rowell

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 25.—"The Question of the Pacific" was the topic of the Pacific conference in China, without China we would have no Pacific problems. The whole question of the open door and the extent to which Japan's interests are to be allowed to predominate in this great, helpless nation is to be decided by the coming conference."

Frederic H. Rowell, former editor of the Oregonian and now a member of the California State Railroad Commission, turned the spotlight on this subject in a speech made here last evening in an overflowing mass of people in the Little Theatre.

Rowell emphasized the point that to save the world from bankruptcy and utter chaos, America must be her part of an frankly pessimistic over the outcome, however, he went on to state, "I doubt the possibility of keeping the conference from ramifying into the question of land disarmament in France, and the possibility of a world peace, to go anything if it occurs; and I doubt the possibility of reaching an agreement with Japan."

LIGHT FROST IN ALVARADO LEADS TO FEAR FOR CROP

Alameda Sugar Company Mill Now Working at Full Capacity.

ALVARADO, Oct. 25.—With one frost recorded and with predictions that more will occur this week, farmers of the Alvarado-Centerville section today are expressing fear that should the next frost be heavy it will damage the tomato crop, which is only little more than half harvested.

The first touch of frost this fall was seen Thursday morning, being heavy in some of the sections near the marshes.

Working at full capacity, the huge mill of the Alameda Sugar Company here is consuming 500 tons of beets daily and will continue at this rate for several weeks. Rain of last week halted the digging of beets only to a slight extent, but growers are fearful that heavy rain will halt the work indefinitely. The crop of beets this year has been exceptionally heavy on some ranches, but on others so few were grown that the ranchers will not go to the expense of digging them, it is said.

With the best harvest in full swing, dairymen also are bracing as the pump of the beets, after the beets have been put through the mangle at the mill and the sugar contents extracted, is sold to the dairymen, who use it for cattle feed. Dairymen say it is one of the most excellent of feeds for milch cows. One use of the pulp is to dry it and feed it to the cattle in dry meal form.

Home Talent Bought In Hayward Buggy

HAYWARD, Oct. 25.—"Home talent," the police believe, was behind the robbery last night of the home of Professor P. T. Johnson, 1232 A street, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock. The thieves entered the house when it was left alone by Miss Mary Johnson, Professor Johnson's daughter. The robbery was discovered an hour later when the Professor returned home. Money only was taken. Jewelry and other valuables were undisturbed. The thieves entered by a rear window and their exit was by the front door. The movements of the family and the "day" of the home convince the officers that the trick was turned by local operators.

S. P. Paints Old Depot: Crowd Acclaims Enterprise

Early this morning a force of three determined men walked down Franklin street as far as Fourteenth, paused at the Southern Pacific station, and there, in the heart of the city and without one word of warning, began slapping rude paint on the sides of the noble structure.

Within thirty seconds the news had reached the city hall, and before five minutes had passed the city and all its environs had been acquainted with the astounding occurrence. Boys on bicycles carried the news to the neighborhood community clubs. Photographs were taken to offer as evidence in case of dispute, and honest men took oath as to what was going on.

The thousands of breathless and puzzled spectators who watched and doubted the evidence of their senses, could not fail to mark the fact that the paint was being applied to the sides of the building without the slightest warning.

ARTISTS ON JOB

The painters approached gingerly, carrying with them self-supporting ladders. They had weighed their point to the ounce, knowing that the building could stand a pound and a half without trembling. On their ladders, which at no point touched the building, the painters applied the color with delicate and tasty jobs.

One painter worked on the north side of the building while the other worked on the south and the third stood where he could watch both. At the signal of this third man, both painters applied the brush so that the strain of their efforts was exerted at the same time and on the opposite sides of the structure.

Cheers rose from the crowd as the object of this brilliant strategy became apparent and as the paint went on without damage to the structure, but there was some apprehension lest the precautions taken to prevent swaying should result in the collapse of a group of young men, members of various fraternal organizations here.

Special decorations and music have been arranged and a general good time is anticipated. Various private parties have been planned to celebrate the time-honored occasion, and, incidentally, an extra force of deputies will see that the night watchman Saturday evening.

Last night the Sunday school classes of the Hayward Presbyterian church gathered at the church hall on B street for the double purpose of paying homage to the illuminated and grinning pumpkin head and to show just how many classes have maintained an average of 80 per cent attendance and gained a recent church school drive. Every class in the Presbyterian Sunday school was represented at the fun making last evening, says Rev. Josiah Daniel.

The council appointed Dr. Carol Aronovic as consultant to the city planning committee at a salary of $100 a month as a retainer for routine business with the understanding that he is to receive special remuneration for special services. The appointment followed a long drawn-out fight between the mayor and the council, the mayor urging the appointment and the council opposing it.

YARROW TO SPEAK

MARTINEZ, Oct. 25.—Walter J. Yarrow, state leader of the oil workers' union, is to be asked to make the principal address at the Armistice Day celebration and demonstration to be staged here under the auspices of the oil workers' union, civic and fraternal organizations.

Fire losses in the United States during July totaled $33,255,750.

The movement was favored by the Forestry Department of the University and Professor Woodbridge Motcalf stated that the $1500 expense for maintaining the fire patrol would be shared by different civic and other organizations at an estimated cost of $250 to $300 each. The Council will hold a conference on the subject with representatives of the East Bay Water Company, which organization is said to own lands in the district to be patrolled.

The council appointed Dr. Carol Aronovic as consultant to the city planning committee at a salary of $100 a month as a retainer for routine business with the understanding that he is to receive special remuneration for special services. The appointment followed a long drawn-out fight between the mayor and the council, the mayor urging the appointment and the council opposing it.

The mayor's original recommendation of $200 a month was cut in half.

Made by Manager of

The unemployment situation as applied to Oakland, and recommendations and proposed remedies from the point of view of their application to the situation in this portion of the country were touched upon today by W. The Hoover conference in Washington on October 17, with regard to its application to local conditions was discussed by the speaker. Several

Two classes, among these recommendations were the organization and centralization of jobs under the jurisdiction of the State Employment Office and the dividing of the unemployed into two classes, the non-resident casuals and the residents.

Concerning the suggestion that non-residents be cared for in some sort of barracks where work enough is furnished to pay for their food and lodging, Goodrich pointed out that the Municipal Wood Yard had been doing work very similar to that suggested in the recommendation of the association.

These recommendations being made on the basis of the national survey of 1920-1921, the speaker in outlining

MARRIED MAN PROBLEM
Among the angles discussed Goodrich were the means of bettering the condition of the married man, who, he said, should be paid basic wage, which, it was pointed out, would have to be supplemented in proportion to the man's dependence.
He suggested that in the case of married men they could be put to work at such tasks as improving

In connection with the recommendations made by the American Association for Labor Legislation, speaker stated that Berkeley appointed a committee and was in the definite stage of carrying out the plan.

WORKERS' LIVES IMPERILED WHEN LIGHT POLE FALLS

The lives of several workmen of the Great Western Power company were endangered and a pyrotechnic display visible for several blocks resulted yesterday afternoon when a large electric light pole crashed to the ground at Nineteenth street, just south of the railroad tracks.

The workmen were engaged in stringing a new wire between some heavy high tension cables, when the pole toppled. As it fell, it carried several workmen and a large portion of the wiring system to the ground. The workmen were unhurt and sprang to their feet seeking safety from the splintering live wires.

The short circuit caused the sparks to increase and bolts of electric flame shot skyward. The accident interrupted service in the district for almost an hour, but a repair crew restored the lighting system to normal.

Mrs. James H. Wilson is in the hospital here, suffering from a crushed chest, but is expected to recover.

IT is easy to whip Carnation Milk, after which it can be used as a filling for cream puffs or for any other purpose calling for whipped cream. To assure the most satisfactory results, place a can of Carnation in water and heat to boiling. Remove promptly and thoroughly chilled, whip in regular way with ordinary egg beater for about five minutes.
Carnation Milk can be whipped without heating but you will find the method suggested above will give you a stiffer whip.

BULGARIAN KING APPEALS TO MAN HE PUT IN PRISON

Ferdinand, Now in Bavaria, Asks Stamboulsky's Aid As Funds Disappear.

SOFIA Oct. 28.—Former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, now in Bavaria, has appealed for aid to the Bulgarian premier, Stamboulsky, a man whom Ferdinand, when king, persecuted and kept in prison for two years.

Now Ferdinand has written to Stamboulsky complaining that the English authorities have again attached an enormous sum of money he inherited from his ancestors and deposited in English banks.

This second attachment litigation regarding the first having been won by Ferdinand, who is made under the peace treaty of Neuilly which gives England the right to seize all property of enemy states during the war.

The English courts insist that Ferdinand is yet a Bulgarian subject.

The former king's request to Stamboulsky asked that Bulgaria, by virtue of the same treaty should pay to him the money claimed by England that amount to be deducted from the sum owed by Bulgaria.

Sound Finance Only Basis Of Prosperity, Says Expert

War debts must be paid and trade restored. These two factors must be stabilized, and a restoration of the purchasing power of foreign money alone can make prosperity. This must come through economic adjustment and not through legislative action.

These are the conclusions of Dr. Tuiley C. Knowles, economist and president of the College of the Pacific at San Jose, on "The Present Financial Condition" as delivered today before the membership luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce in the lobby hall room of the Hotel Oakland.

"Money has intrinsic face and purchasing value," Dr. Knowles said, "and those values do not always agree. The dollar of 1913 would not have the purchasing power of the dollar of 1913. This was due to many causes.

FIVE KINDS IN U. S.

"In addition to the coin money in America, we have five general kinds of paper money, no two having the same foundation. Yet does the average business man examine the notes which come into his possession to determine their character?"

"Treasury notes are simply promises on the part of the government to pay at some future time for gold or silver, and are not redeemable. There is nothing back of these notes save confidence in the government."

"National Bank notes are backed by government, state, municipal and school bonds since 1900, while gold and silver certificates are simply used to save wear and tear on gold and silver, for by law there must be coin or bullion in the treasury of the United States to redeem these notes."

"Most of us are quite familiar with the Federal Reserve notes, which, as a part of the Federal Reserve System, make our currency elastic and safeguard the nation against panic."

"A high national official, an authority in finance, has recently said that 45 per cent of our business transactions are carried on by check."

and only 5 per cent by cash. Were it not for this checking practice one readily sees that money would have to have many times its present purchasing power or there should be a vast increase in its quantity."

"To facilitate the use of money through clearing the clearing house association has been devised. Foreign exchange in its broad outlines is very similar to the clearing house system."

"If the exports of each country to each country with which it does business were equal to the imports from that country, the problem of finance would be a simple one of bookkeeping, but as that equality cannot be reached it is necessary that money or bullion be transferred from nation to nation. Where this is not advisable or possible an exchange system must be devised whereby equality of values are transferred."

"Before the war the United States was a great debtor nation. Its public and private securities were held in enormous amounts in the various European countries."

MONEY STOCK INCREASED.

"With the progress of the war vast quantities of these securities were transferred to the United States in exchange for our products. Our debt was as great but the capital was expended in America and the interest dispersed in America, hence the stock of our money was vastly increased."

"As the war became most destructive the foreign nations were forced to borrow and the United States became the banker to the world. With the ten billion dollars, most of which was spent for American products."

"The decline of European money values and the increase of American money values were due to three general causes."

"First: In proportion to the payment of the war debt by income taxes, so did the money of a nation keep its pre-war value."

"Second: In proportion to the nation's payment of the ratio of income in interest sums would the rate of exchange fall."

"Third: As a nation increased its indebtedness by the issuance of bonds and of paper money, so would the rate of exchange fall."

"America, producing at top speed under non-economic conditions, selling to Europe in extremity of war, was prosperous. With the sudden coming of peace Europe no longer forced to buy, was willing to do without, and exchange rates still further dropped."

In addition to Dr. Knowles' talk, a musical program was rendered by St. Anthony's Linden, symphony flute soloist; Emmy Louis Linden, his wife, pianist, and the Fremont high school orchestra under the direction of A. C. Oiler.

YOUNG PARADERS TO BE PICKED

All preparations for the participation of the Oakland public schools in the Armistice Day parade will be made tomorrow morning in the office of the superintendent of schools by a special committee headed by Major William McCauley, U. S. A., and including Major Francis Hunter, Howard Welby, Glenn Woods, E. W. Kottlinger, Donald Rice, and Miss Ella O'Connell and Luella Shelton.

Kottlinger was the organizer of the school band parade several years ago when some 20,000 school children marched past a given point in about a half-hour, making better time than an average army division, in spite of the fact that the school children had no previous training.

The motion picture making children march for long distances, but the committee intends to pick the best marchers, it is said, and let the rest act as spectators.

There will be eight school bands available for the Armistice Day parade, and each band will be apportioned to a certain part of the parade.

Trial Is Halted by Lack of Interpreter

Because one of the complaining witnesses, Mrs. Cecelia Radcliffe, in the case of Joseph Lacey, attorney, who is charged with passing a fictitious check, could not speak good English the case was continued this morning by Police Judge Herbert Wiley until Monday afternoon in order to engage a suitable interpreter.

Lacey was arrested on the complaint of Joseph Radcliffe, who alleges that the attorney gave him a check for $400 which was returned by the bank marked not sufficient funds.

Radcliffe claims that he gave Lacey $400 at the time of the arrest of his son. The money he says was to be used to obtain bail. He also says that Lacey did not get his son the bail and when he demanded his money back he gave him the check.

Cafe Men on Trial As Liquor Vendors

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Albert C. Morrison, manager of Technau Tavern, and V. E. Lardi, its cashier, were placed on trial today before Federal Judge Dooling for maintaining a nuisance and the possession and sale of liquor growing out of a sensational raid conducted last August by prohibition enforcement officers.

Attorneys Bert Schlesinger and Thomas Lannon failed to convince the court that the case should be dismissed by reason of a faulty search warrant. The two waiters in the place, have already pleaded guilty, but have not been sentenced.

In the new Broadway Market reservations are now being received for booths, stalls, stores and display space for all lines of retail business in food products and household merchandise.

This big general market is in the center of the new Broadway retail district—the finest location of its kind in the east-bay region—and enables the small shop-owner to get on Broadway without paying Broadway rents, with an absolute assurance of a definite location for a fixed period of time.

This new market has a double frontage—Broadway, and Franklin streets, and the main entrance adjoins the new Orpheum theater, between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, and will have close to 20,000 square feet of floor space. The new Fox theater is to be erected one-half block south of the Broadway Market.

Construction work to be rushed. Make your reservation immediately. Think of the wonderful opportunity in a Broadway location at side street rent.

ONLY EIGHT MORE DAYS

to absolutely insure "Big Game" Seats

Public quota will be exhausted next week if applications continue at present rate

Construction of the new California Memorial Stadium is assured. So great has been the request for seats that you must act at once to insure your tickets to the big California-Stanford games.

The first big game of the ten-year series is only three weeks away. The record of both teams this year assures a classic contest. Will the Stanford "thin red line" withstand the terrific battering of California's charges? Can Stanford's fighting spirit overcome California's indomitable will?

Every red-blooded man and woman—whether a football expert or not—will thrill at the history-making "Big Games." They are the West's most brilliant events—social and athletic. Will you be present to cheer your favorite team to victory—to join the colorful throng and be young again for a day?

A limit of 10,000 units of two seats each is offered to California Alumni and the general public. The present offer to the public is possible only because of the necessity of raising immediate funds for the construction of the Memorial Stadium. It is the first time in years that the public has had opportunity to buy seats. Last year 32,000 people were turned away. Insure your seats by acting at once.

Easy to Get Under New $10 Plan

No red tape—no delay. We furnish the security

Go to the Bank of Italy or any one of its branches today and clinch this opportunity to buy one or more units of two seats for ten years. Do it this way:

Pay the bank $10 now.

Pay $10 monthly, starting November 15th, with interest.

Get all the privileges of a $100 cash subscription.

Get two choice $5.00 seats for ten years wherever the BIG GAME is played. Get all the extra privileges shown below, including first choice of seats at the annual intersectional game.

Under Any Plan You Get Big Game Tickets This Year

The third plan of payment is $25 down and $25 quarterly, beginning March, 1922. This gives two tickets to the Big Game for nine years and an option on your two seats the tenth year. If you prefer to pay cash, send check for $100 today to California Stadium Fund, Berkeley.

In addition you get first option on seats at California athletic contests, including conference football games and the annual intersectional game now being arranged for between California and a large Eastern university. Your seats in the California Stadium will be marked with a plate carrying your name, or may be dedicated to the memory of anyone you desire to honor.

NATIONAL TENNIS CHAMPIONS WILL APPEAR AT BERKELEY

DURANT MOTORS BASEBALL GROUNDS WILL BE DEDICATED SUNDAY WITH TWO BALL GAMES

CLIFF DURANT MAY BE ON JOB TO TWIRL THE FIRST BALL OVER PAN

And If He Is Not, Then Fred Krumb Will Step In and Serve As a Relief Pitcher.

By EDDIE MURPHY

The Little Joe, Bushers of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE Midwinter League are putting on a lot of class these days. They already have the finest set of ball parks that any bush league in the country can boast of, including the Pacific Coast League Park, loaned by the Oakland baseball club. And tomorrow afternoon work on the new Durant Field, at Fifty-fifth avenue and East Fourteenth streets will be completed and the first game out there will be played Sunday morning when the Lee Bertillion Hatters in the Class "B" League will meet the Glen Athletic Club. The teams are tied for first place in the Eastern division, so the game should be worth going a long way to see. But the big contest of the day will take place in the afternoon at 2:15 when the Durant Motors, managed by Ed Vitt, will take possession of their new baseball home, and tangle with the Lee Bertillion Hatters in the Class "A" League. The Durants have met with two defeats in the first three games, but defeats do not always tell the class of a team, and the Durants must be counted in the pennant fight.

"Durant Baseball Field will be one of the best in the bush," said "Top" Williams, the old gent who cared for the diamond at the Oakland Coast League Park for many seasons, and who last spring went to Myrtlebeach and supervised the work of turning a hilly lot into a fine-class diamond for the Oaks to train on.

P. C. L. Ground Keeper Is Fixing Up Durant Field.

"Pop" has been hired by Cliff Durant to put the finishing touches on Durant Baseball Field, and he was on the job yesterday afternoon, lining up the bases, firing the backstop and making preparations to have the infield and outfield fixed so the best leaguers in the country would not fear to go out on them. If Pop handles the job as he did those at the Oakland Coast League park and at Myrtlebeach, the bushers will have no whiff for a boot. Of course, the more rain the diamond can get for the next couple of weeks the better, especially after the plowing and raking it has received in the past ten days.

Work will also have to be rushed on the clubhouse, which is located at the end of right field. Plans for a grand opening and dedication are being outlined, and

Dempsey and Gibbons Meet On Labor Day

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—Assurance that the Dempsey-Gibbons fight will be held here on Labor Day was made today when Frank McCormick, local boxing promoter, raised his guarantee on the fight. Dempsey will receive as his share of the fight $100,000 and Gibbons $40,000. Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and McCormick made this announcement this morning after a long conference.

Salmon Spearing Is Good in Stanislaus

MODESTO, Oct. 28.—Big salmon catches are being made along the Stanislaus river. They are running in large numbers. Water in the river has raised about two feet in the past week, making it ideal for salmon running.

Of the county's spear throwers, William Damon of Riverbank thus far claims the largest fish speared. He landed a 32-pound dog salmon.

National Stars Of Court Will Play Tomorrow

Tennis Experts Will Be Seen At Berkeley Tennis Club Courts.

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—Tennis fans are promised two afternoons of stellar play tomorrow and Sunday at the Berkeley Tennis Club courts, when thirteen nationally famous stars meet in a tournament to be given under the auspices of the California Memorial Stadium committee.

Heading the list of matches is a contest between Helen Wills, girl champion of the United States, and women's champion of California, and May Sutton Bundy, for three years national title and the British and women's world title. Mrs. Bundy had not appeared on the courts for some time until this summer when she staged a sensational comeback, even though she was defeated by Mrs. Malory in the finals for the right to contest Suzanne Lenglen when the French titleholder invaded the United States.

Little Miss Helen Wills, the Berkeley schoolgirl, who astounded the East this summer and acquired the right to the national girl's title, will oppose Mrs. Bundy in the first match of the tournament. The junior champion has a style of play similar to that of men players, but unusual to a woman. Her forehand drive is long and powerful, while her serve is fast and carries with it a long high bound that is extremely elusive to the receiver.

The complete program for the tournament is as follows:

Saturday—2:00, Helen Wills vs. May Sutton Bundy; 3:00, "Johnny" Strachan vs. Ed Roberts; 4:00, Helen Wills and Helen Baker vs. Anna and Luck McCune.

Sunday—1:30, "Phil" Neer vs. "Walley" Butler; 2:30, "Bill" Johnston vs. Willis Davis; 3:30, Bob and Howard Kinsey vs. "Johnny" Strachan.

FOOTBALL NEWS

The All Army team from Camp Lewis, Washington, has been in San Francisco at the Presidio for the past two days and are working out daily in preparation for their game with the Olympic Club, next Sunday, at Ewing Field. The Camp Lewis eleven comes to these parts with a reputation, having trimmed Gonzaga College, in the North, by a score of 10-7.

Assistant Coach Nibs Price left for Los Angeles last night, where he is to scout the Southern California-Pomona game for the Bears. Price originally came from the South, and will be right at home among the foes in Los Angeles.

The Olympic Club is in a sorry plight for football players at present writing. Jimmy Needles is still out of the game on injuries, and Al Williams is another backfield star in shape for the game Sunday. The veteran, Ken Eastman, is playing a fine game of football this year, and will probably start at one of the halfback jobs.

California's drive for her Memorial Stadium is nearing completion. At present more than $50,000 of the desired million has been subscribed, and with the date of the Big Game but three weeks away, the public will begin to grab up the remaining scrip books in a hurry.

The Alameda West End Merchants having successfully disposed of the hard hitting Florio & Pigone Harvard team by handing them a 5 to 0 shut-out last Sunday at Washington Park, now feel they are able to sail through the season with a clean record in the win column, and are already negotiating for a nagpole from which to display the TRIBUNE pennant. As the time is getting short in which to sign new players, Manager George Hagy is very well satisfied with his present lineup and is not worrying about new talent, providing injuries do not become too frequent among his players. In the three games played, two of his stars have been crippled, but he is extremely fortunate in having such capable utility men to fill in when those misfortunes occur. During the second game "Plek" Bennett, the sterling second sacker, strained a tendon in his elbow and was forced to go to the hospital for an operation, but the injured member is now rapidly rounding into shape and "Plek" should be able to resume his position again very soon. Cliff Silva gave a good account of himself in last Sunday's game, filling in for Bennett. Joe Kanev, the slugging catcher for the Merchants, was forced to retire in the fourth inning last Sunday with a badly swollen hand, which necessitated Captain "Dode" Kihn to go behind the bat, where he is quite an adept at performing, this being the captain's original position. Roy Henninger, another utility man, was then placed at short and made good with a vengeance as he did the previous Sunday when he played second after Bennett was injured. In the two games in which Roy has participated, he is batting 600, and incidentally leading the team in that department.

Harry Klein, the lengthy first-sacker, is going along in whirlwind style, having handled thirty-eight chumps without an error and is hitting at a .412 clip, having entered the Babe Ruth class last Sunday when he hit one over the left field fence, which is some drive. George Donald, the fast centerfielder, and Joe Hagy, are the other members of this slugging society, Kanley having annexed two in one game.

The American Legion Post No. 1 in the Class B League are going to prove hard to beat, according to Manager Polietto. Tom Beatty, one of the hurriers on the Legion club, has been nursing a wrenched knee, but will be back in the game within a few weeks.

Jesse Harstfield, infielder for the Legion club, is doing some good work with the bat. In Sunday's game, the big fellow drove home six of the Legion tallies.

Ed Braddock, a southpaw, played his first game for the American Legion club, and handles himself well. He can pitch, play the infield or outfield. His hitting should prove a wonderful help.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE NIGHT BIRD.

Uncle Wiggily and Baby Buntz, the little rabbit girl, were going through the woods one day. For Baby Buntz wanted a lollypop, and the bunny gentleman was taking her to the ten and fifteen cent store to get it.

"All of a sudden, as Baby Buntz passed under a pine tree, the thick branches of which made a sort of a dark cave, the small rabbit girl cried:

"Oh, look, Uncle Wiggily, there's a brown bag hanging on one of the limbs. We would like that bag to put my lollypop in."

"Maybe that bag is a hornet's nest," spoke Mr. Longears.

"No, it isn't," said Baby Buntz. "I saw a bee hanging in the woods, but when she poked it some hornets flew out and stung her before she had a chance to tell them she didn't wish to harm them."

"No, this isn't a hornet's nest," Baby Buntz told Uncle Wiggily. "A hornet's nest is made of stuff that looks like gray paper. This is brown."

"I'll take a look," said the bunny gentleman, and when he peered at what Baby Buntz had seen Mr. Longears exclaimed:

"That isn't a brown bag, hanging on a limb, it is a night bird, Baby Buntz."

"What's a night bird?" asked the little rabbit girl. "Do you mean a lightning-bug with a mosquito?"

"I mean a bat," went on Uncle Wiggily. "Not many birds fly at night, but the bat does, though he isn't exactly a bird, for he has no feathers."

"Oh, he's a mouse!" exclaimed Baby Buntz, as she drew nearer the strange creature, who was hanging upside down by means of hooked claws on the ends of his folded wings. He was sound asleep, too, or, at any rate, he had his eyes closed, and didn't open his eyes when Uncle Wiggily and Baby Buntz talked around him and kept on sleeping."

"When I come back I'll give the bat a night, bird some of my lollypop. If he's awake, I'll give him one. But when she and Uncle Wiggily hopped through the woods again the bat was still asleep. Baby Buntz put a piece of her lollypop on the limb nearest to her, and she left him there in peace and quiet."

"Will he wake up in the night and fly around?" asked the little rabbit girl.

"Yes, he'll fly like the night bird he is," said Mr. Longears.

That night the little fellow stumped through the woods, and Baby Buntz was waiting for a few days, there was trouble. And, as he told, it was Uncle Wiggily who was ill.

Whether the old rabbit gentleman had eaten too much of Baby Buntz's lollypop, or whether he was sick, or whether he was old, no one could say. Anyhow, Uncle Wiggily was suddenly seized with terrible pains.

"I guess you'll have to telephone for a doctor," said Baby Buntz.

ADVENTURE.

Once upon a time there lived a little girl, her name was Helen. She lived with her father and mother. They were very poor. Their names were Mr. and Mrs. Forest and little Helen Forest.

In their early life they were very rich and lived in a wonderful mansion. Their worst enemy, Mr. Kaligo, stole all their money and sent them to African jungles, where they and Helen have been living in Africa for six months.

"Dear Mrs. Forest: Do not be worried, Helen and I are safe at a natives' camp. When I get home I will tell you about it. Your loving HUSBAND."

Mrs. Forest was a very good woman, but was easily frightened. First, when she heard a knock at the door. She looked out of the window and saw the savage. Then she screamed and then fainted. The native rushed in and sprinkled some water on her. Then she slowly opened her eyes and saw the native and meekly asked, "What do you want?"

He answered, "I have brought you a message from Mr. Forest. He is alive. Then she said, 'Thank you, very much.' Then the savage went his way. On the way back he met a lion. He was still struggling in the great city. It renews faith in the goodness of human nature, doesn't it? And he- appear. Pretty soon a tiger confronted him and he did not have any water on her. Then he slowly opened her eyes and saw the native and meekly asked, "What do you want?"

Writes about FOLKS AND THINGS

WANTED—A NEIGHBOR.

Skimming over the morning papers, as I lingered at the breakfast table, these words struck my eyes. Some one is asking for a neighbor and he thinks he can get one by advertising. I thought, But at the same moment I remembered that I wanted a neighbor was only one to buy the next lot to an advertising home by the way in which to get attention, wasn't it?

Just the right kind of a neighbor, I thought, but we all want—but we know we can't get the ideal neighbor for our home by advertising. A way to sell land, it may well be. But to discover a real neighbor with all his neighborliness, we have to go and so live that we can find what we desire.

MANY GOOD NEIGHBORS.

Neighbors of the right kind are like friends. "Found," wrote Queen Elizabeth, "in days of prosperity and adversity."

Who has never discovered friendly neighbors he never dreamed he had when the waters of trouble rolled over his head? While the rays went straight to his world-shaking light, there was little to make us feel the want of others to help us along—but when sorrow came, who can tell what was the comfort and supporting power of some neighbor who knew exactly how to apply balm to the desperate wounds that hurt us.

Do you not remember she who slipped into the house by the side door when the world turned black before your eyes, and how she brought to you, unassuming and gently, perhaps a cup of tea, or a little gift, simple and thoughtful, with never a word of your trouble, maybe, but a look which said:

"I understand."

Who but your neighbor can fitly sympathize with you when some good fortune comes—some joyful event which you must share to fully taste its delight? The neighbor is a gift of God in sorrow and in joy—such a neighbor as I am thinking of. City neighbors are not so certain to be in evidence as are those of small towns and the open country. But even in crowded New York the spirit of neighborliness lives and flourishes. The self-centered dweller in apartment house or flat notes the sign of grief on her neighbor's door and she does not often fail to show her sympathy in some unobtrusive way, even when there has been no sympathy before her trouble.

"Never can I forget my neighbors in the apartment above," said a woman in great grief just a day or two ago. "I never even saw any of the family before, but we had sickness here and were unable to find the help we needed at once. The neighbor who lived next door to me stayed with me until the nurse arrived. How she helped me in my confusion and distress, words cannot tell. The neighbor seemed to know when she was needed. When we could exist without her, she was always ready for any crisis, and when at last the hour of deepest need came, she was here. For our friends, for our place was too small for many to stay, when all the needs of violent illness were taken into account. Never tell me that the city is heartless!"

BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR.

It was a comfort to hear the testimony of one who had been through the trial of sickness and death of her child, while she was still struggling in the great city. It renews faith in the goodness of human nature, doesn't it? And he- appear. Pretty soon a tiger confronted him and he did not have any water on her. Then he slowly opened her eyes and saw the native and meekly asked, "What do you want?"

Try on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World

Once upon a time Mr. Kipling wrote a refreshing and somewhat vulgar poem called "The Mary Gloster." In it, along with much other rude wisdom, occurs this statement, uttered by the dying ship owner and inventor: "They copied all they could follow but they couldn't copy my mind. And I left 'em sweating and stealing, a year and a half behind—There is only one kind of lasting success and that is the kind you make for yourself, that springs from roots within yourself. Inculcating this kind is rarer than a blue monkey. This is the Art of the Copy Cat. Everyone wants to get rich quick and get famous quicker. Everyone wants to be clever, and no one wants to do the backwash thing. The result is that for every genius who hitches himself to a star, there are ten thousand who hitch themselves to as coat tails and copy his methods, or live off the byproducts of his talents. The inevitable consequence of hanging on to coat tails is that sooner or later you're going to fall off and get bumped. Then there's a howl which accounts for a great deal of the 'business depression' which is ever with us. If you want a dependable program, make up one for yourself. It may not be world shaking—but it may not be able to invent a dynamo—but you can invent a better touch it."

It would take more than a trusty carpet sweeper to cope with the dust that "Coo-ee" stirred up when she gave her domestic program—which same included, making, hubby's shirts and pajamas and knitting his sweater coats besides doing about enough chores for tripples. Here's one more of the very decided opinions on such programs.

Dear Geraldine:

In my usual perusal of your interesting page this Sunday, I came upon Coo-ee's letter, telling about what a shark for system and order in housework she was and all she did, with two babies, one that she still nurses. And at the end she asks rather pathetically, "Gee, whiz, how will it (the work) or I last?"

I was interested because once on a time I made the same mistake that she seems to be making, of putting the housework before everything, my health, husband's companionship (I did not nursing babies, though when I had a nursing baby) and my own mental advancement.

SHOESCOUNCIL THANKS WOMAN FOR LAND

The city council this morning adopted a resolution of appreciation to Mrs. Henrietta Farrelly of San Leandro, who voluntarily donated to the city of Oakland a strip of land 12 by 800 feet on East Fourteenth street from One Hundred and Seventh avenue to the Stanley road, thus making it easier to widen Fourteenth street and incidentally give the city of Oakland this small tract of San Leandro.

According to Commissioner Bacon, this act of Mrs. Farrelly was the deciding factor which caused the Durant Motor Company to acquire the property directly opposite for their plant site.

The council also adopted a resolution of intention to improve Telegraph avenue from Fifty-second street to the Berkeley line.

The license of the Olympia cafe, run by Sam Mouslemas at 1751 West Seventh street, was revoked by request of the chief of police. The chief asserted that Patrolman Eugene Faulkner was able to buy corn whiskey at this place, paying for it with marked money. Previous complaints, said the chief, made action against this cafe imperative.

SOCCER TEAMS

A group of soccer teams in all weights ranging from 90 to 130 pounds has been organized at Fremont high school and challenges are now going out to all other schools. The Fremont teams are now fully equipped and officered, and are training for whoever they happen to meet first.

Shouts for Mikado, Only
In Japan, Says Stephens

"Let the Japanese stand upon the housetop and cry aloud praise of the emperor of his country, but let that housetop be in Japan and not California," Governor William D. Stephens declared last night before the Business and Professional Woman's Club dinner in Ashmun Temple.

The Japanese question, state highways, soldier legislation and government economy was discussed by California's executive before the 260 men and women assembled to do him honor.

"Washington and the East does not believe we have a Japanese problem," he said. "We must all assist in keeping out of America those who cannot be assimilated as citizens. We must all help the government solve this problem, whether the solution comes by legislation or treaty."

Governor Stephens asserted that President Harding and members of the cabinet had given him encouragement in the hope that relief might come.

California has the best highways of any state in the Union, according to the governor, who reviewed the road-building history of the past ten years, in which automobiles in the state have increased from 40,000 to 440,000.

HELP FOR VETERANS

Support for the measure which will appear on the ballot in November, 1922, appropriating an additional $7,000,000 to the initial appropriation of $3,000,000 to provide long-time loans for the purchase of homes or farm lands to service men.

Although dozens of young women had been in his employ, Governor Stephens confessed that in no single instance had his confidence ever been violated.

"No man can ever take the place of the young woman in a business office," he said.

Dr. Minora Kibbe, as chairman of the evening, introduced the govern-

FERRY RAMS DOCKS
WHILE LANDING

More than a score of passengers on the upper deck of the Southern Pacific ferryboat Santa Clara scrambled for safety this morning when the boat crashed into the wharf while making a landing, ending a trip from San Francisco. The boat tore down several piles and a portion of her upper deck was crushed. No one was injured.

Catarrhal Deafness
And Head NoisesTELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parnint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Advertisement.
